Investment Highlights

Excellent access and visibility

Strategically situated in hard corner of PR-23 and San Patricio Ave., this property offers unrivaled exposure and convenience. Puerto Rico Highway 23, commonly referred to as Franklin Delano Roosevelt Avenue, is a major road in San Juan, Puerto Rico. It stretches from the intersection of PR-2 and PR-165 near San Patricio in Guaynabo, heading east towards the Milla de Oro business area. With its prominent position, the property will benefit from the high traffic volume, ensuring maximum visibility and exposure. Within close proximity are major highways like PR-2, PR-20 and PR-22.

Amenities within a thriving business district

The property enjoys a great location with many amenities within the area. The property is located within walking distance of San Patricio Plaza, home to top local and US retailers and casual restaurants like TJ Maxx, Office Depot, PetSmart, Longhorn Steakhouse, Chili's, Olive Garden, among others. Also near the building is Plaza Caparra, with Marshalls, SuperMax, Farmacia Caridad, Crumbl Cookies and many others. Within a 3 mile radius is located Plaza las Americas, the largest shopping center in the Caribbean and one of the top retail destinations on the Island.

PR Tax Incentives

Investing in Puerto Rico through Act 60 offers service industry investors attractive benefits, including a fixed 4% corporate income tax rate, property tax exemptions, and withholding tax exemptions. With a skilled workforce, strategic location, and favorable business environment, Puerto Rico is a promising destination for long-term growth and market expansion. Act 60's objective of promoting economic development and job creation makes it an enticing opportunity for investors seeking to maximize their business potential.
