INTO YOUR MAGICAL PALACES: HALLS OF RESIDENCE

Hello there! Being the second-largest engineering institute in India, NIT Rourkela boasts of encompassing 11 Halls of Residence spread across the campus, 7 for boys, 2 for girls and 2 for married scholars. Every hall is divided into numerous blocks constituting spacious, well-ventilated rooms, properly furnished with modern furniture including bed frames, study tables, chairs, cupboards, tube lights, and ceiling fans, nothing less than a modern-day sultanate palace. In order to make your stay more resourceful, LAN ports are also installed in every room. Every examination will decide your aptitude and development towards becoming the Sultan and the way you evaluate it here is the CGPA- SGPA system. Every subject that you study in a semester has a particular number of credits and the total credit for a semester is the sum total of the same.

$$\text{CGPA} = \frac{\sum(\text{SGPA} * \text{credit of semester})}{\sum \text{credit of semester}}$$

OPTING FOR A MINOR ?

Students going to second year can choose any other branch as their minor branch, along with, of course, their major degree.

If you have already registered for the minor and find it difficult to cope up with it, you can back out by stating valid reasons.

The registration, time slots etc are all same for the minors as their open electives.

The students who get a CGPA of 8 or more are eligible for opting minor degree.
