

Periods are Unpredictable

$4-6/ year
Approx. cost per user

Who wants to leave the stall or ask for help when their period starts?

86% of menstruators have been caught without a pad or tampon

92% have found vending machines jammed, broken or empty

Nearly 1 in 5 girls have missed school due to lack of access to period products

Egal pads on rolls can be placed in every bathroom stall next to toilet paper - where they are needed the most.

Period Poverty is Real

20% of teens in the U.S. struggle to afford period products. Many are missing school and falling behind.

Over 20 states have mandated that products be made available free of charge in schools. Other states have bills pending. Many Universities have started their own programs.

Period Equity is Coming

Egal means equal. Periods are just another bodily function. So, if any bathroom away from home provides toilet paper, towels, and tissues, then why not pads?

Egal is the Best Solution

Don't use vending machines for something that is not being sold! Machines are an expensive and unreliable capital cost, and the products are bulky with excessive packaging.

Egal pads are thin, highly absorbent, and easy to refill. Ask about our custom dispenser!

No one carries around toilet paper, so why should anyone have to carry around period products? Pads should be free and easily accessible to all who need them.

Egal pads can be dispensed in every stall where they are needed the most. And refilling is easy.

Use a standard dispenser or try the Egal dispenser which is optimized for our rolls.
