About Jessica

Meet the heart behind Made Whole.

Jessica DeYoung is an author, speaker, and founder of Made Whole, a ministry that helps Christian women move from brokenness to wholeness in Christ. Her teaching blends honest storytelling, biblical truth, and the warmth of a trusted friend.

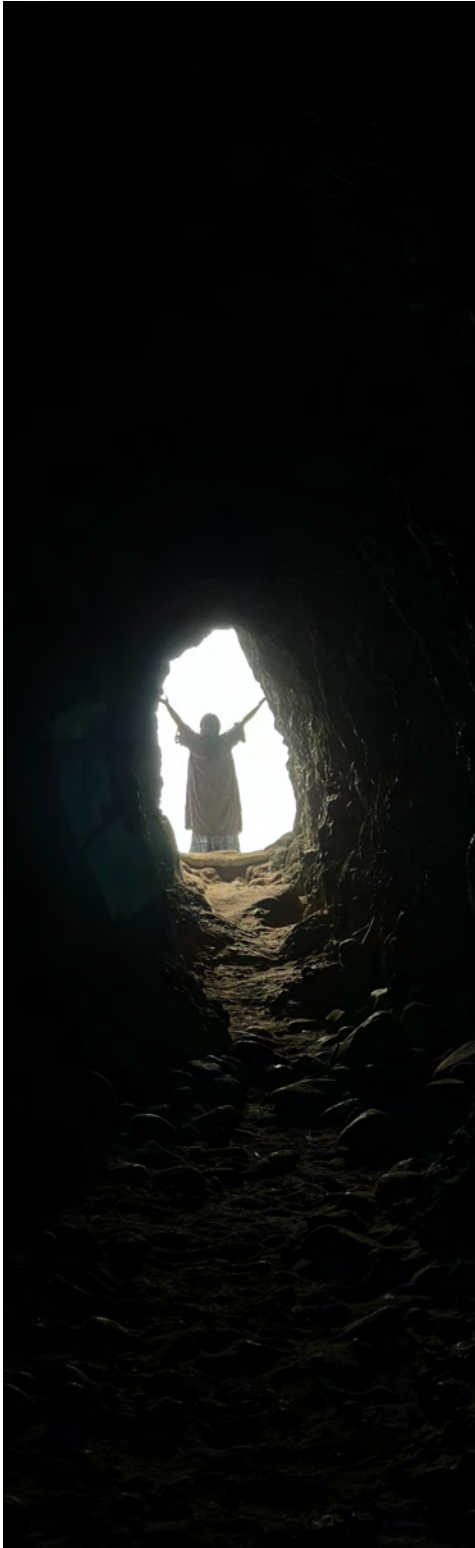

Since answering God's call in 2017, Jessica has reached thousands of women through her book, community, and live events, guiding them to release shame, rebuild confidence, and rediscover who they are in God's eyes.

She and her family travel full-time across the United States in their converted RV, bringing Made Whole to churches, retreats, and conferences across the country and is also available for virtual events..

She also hosts the "Perspectives Into Practice" podcast, where she shares faith-filled conversations and practical encouragement to help women live out biblical wholeness in their everyday lives.

May God Himself, the God who makes everything holy and whole, make you holy and whole, spirit, soul, and body. The One who called you is completely dependable. If He said it, He'll do it.

1 Thessalonians 5:23-24

“The Heart Behind Made Whole”

A Note from Jessica

If there's one thing I've learned on this journey, it's that God wastes nothing.

Every story, every scar, and every surrendered “yes” becomes part of His beautiful work of redemption.

Made Whole was born out of my own healing, one small act of obedience that grew into a ministry reaching thousands of women.

My prayer is that, together, we keep creating spaces where women can drop their walls, encounter Jesus, and remember who they are in Him.

Whether it's through a retreat, conference, or intimate gathering, I'm honored to walk beside you as we invite women to live whole, free, and fully loved.

Live free from Shame, Guilt, and Fear

May God Himself, the God who makes everything holy and whole, make you holy and whole, spirit, soul, and body. The One who called you is completely dependable. If He said it, He'll do it.

1 Thessalonians 5:23-24

Made Whole was born from a simple, trembling yes. In 2017, during a quiet time with the Lord, Jessica sensed His still, small voice calling her to write and to speak. It made no earthly sense. She was teaching childbirth classes, serving as a doula, and had just invested in midwifery school, but obedience felt undeniable. Through years of patient preparation, the Lord shaped a message: God doesn't just heal parts of us; He makes us whole, spirit, soul, and body.

Today, Jessica's messages create safe, Spirit-led spaces where women encounter God's presence, release shame, and practice Christ-centered vulnerability. Women often say her talks feel "like sitting next to a friend," yet they carry the weight of Scripture and the power of practical application. Whether in person or online, the goal is the same: peace instead of striving, purpose instead of comparison, and freedom that lasts.

The Story & the Impact

"The Holy Spirit, through Jessica, spoke right to my heart, no, yelled to my heart. It was eye-opening and heart-wrenching in the best way. I walked away convicted and encouraged to let God keep working in me." - Darla

"Jessica speaks like your best friend sitting beside you. Honest, safe, and hopeful." -Sarah

"I loved how Jessica hit on comparison being the thief of joy. We miss God's plan when we're looking behind us. She helped me stop comparing and start resting in who God made me to be." Shannon
