

What Data Does Ledger Collect, and Why?

When you participate in our Ledger Crypto Promotion, Ledger collects your name, email address, and invoice information.

Your data is collected and processed to attribute your reward, based on the contract established between Ledger and you for your participation in this offer.

Your information is accessible only to Ledger and to our promotions management provider. We will keep this data for one year from the date you complete the questionnaire.

Please be assured that your personal data collected for this promotional offer is not transferred outside the European Economic Area (EEA).

You have the right to access your data, rectify it, request its erasure, or exercise your right to restrict the processing of your data. For more information on your rights, please consult the French data protection authority's website (www.cnil.fr).

To exercise these rights or if you have any questions about the processing of your data, you can contact our Data Protection Officer (DPO) through Ledger's Privacy inquiries portal, available at privacy-request.ledger.com.

If, after contacting us, you believe your rights have not been respected, you have the option to file a complaint with the French data protection authority's website (www.cnil.fr).
