NACAC serves the educational community, both professional college admission counselors and prospective college students. The organization states:

“The National Association for College Admission Counseling (NACAC), founded in 1937, is an organization of nearly 16,000 professionals from around the world dedicated to serving students as they make choices about pursuing postsecondary education. NACAC is committed to maintaining high standards that foster ethical and social responsibility among those involved in the transition process...”

“The staff of TheBestSchools.org is delighted with our organization’s selection for membership in NACAC, since we share in the goal to provide the best possible information to students seeking direction for their higher education needs,” says Dan Edelen, marketing director for TheBestSchools.org. “Our staff’s dedication to stringent standards for our college rankings, degree information, and college prep advice aligns with the ideas of NACAC, as does our emphasis on a professional yet personal connection with students and educators. Our membership in a prestigious organization such as NACAC reflects our commitment to everyone who seeks our assistance with the college and university decision process.”
