OUR STORY

Passionate Playmakers at Heart

Sixes was founded by two Scots, Calum and Andy. As long time business partners, crafting theatre and fun around something that draws people together for good times shared has always been our North Star.

"Social connection and having fun with the people around us is infinitely good for the soul regardless of who we are"

In 2014 we co-founded the now closed (thanks Covid), London based Scottish experiential hospitality brand, Mac & Wild, with the mission of bringing guests together for an immersive off-road Highland adventure, showcasing the abundance and beauty of Scotland's natural larder and warm culture.

"It's all about experiencing unfamiliar but thrilling experiences within the familiarity of an upbeat hospitality setting. A double win for the time poor, experience seeking modern socialite."

We're approaching the design and curation of the Sixes experience in much the same way – this time it is the thrill of cricket rather than whisky and venison!

We like to think of our ourselves as passionate playmakers and would love to host your event at one of our venues.
