Seating For a New Era

Your workplace and the way you get it all done has evolved. Chances are, you're not stationed in one place all day anymore—and when you've got a schedule packed with meetings and project planning, the last thing you need is a task chair with confusing adjustments and fussy mechanisms. Designed to support you through a variety of postures and tasks, Flexion goes with the flow when you're on-the-go. With a dynamic seat design that relieves pressure points, a single, uncomplicated lever for easy adjustments, and a clean, frameless aesthetic, this smart seating solution understands that to keep productivity at its peak, comfort is non-negotiable. Ideal for unassigned seating spaces like benching, touchdown, and hybrid areas, Flexion offers straightforward performance and easy agility to energetic environments.

"When it comes to unassigned seating, a chair needs to adapt to different users without complicated adjustments. Flexion is simple and intuitive, with both the seat and back moving in relation to natural body motion - you use it and it fits."
