Peak™

Elevating the Agile Work Area

Individual and group activities that happen in shared spaces require a certain degree of flexibility, privacy, and functionality. The Townhall™ collection, with products like Peak, creates sought-after, active areas that support multiple work modes and the changing postures necessary for individual or team work.

Designed for Peak Efficiency

User-movable Peak micro-environments throughout the office landscape address a broad range of seating postures for how people like to work and relax. The sculptural, modular design allows units to connect in multiple ways.

Built-in slide glides enable users to easily reconfigure Peak for team collaboration or focused work.

Relaxed casual postures or active working postures, Peak accommodates whatever the need throughout the day.

A gently sloped back provides lumbar and back support while offering privacy for those seeking concentration.

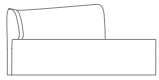

The interesting asymmetrical shapes create numerous unique and functional configurations.
