Functional Design

Seek is designed for easy maneuverability and innovative support. Its lightweight, mobile design is comfortable enough for all-day use.

Pivoting back moves with the user's body position and posture.

Whether used as a side chair or as training room seating, Seek is suitable for all office settings.

Seek chairs nest and stack for high-density storage, opening the space for new uses.

A contoured seat reduces pressure points and evenly distributes weight for long-term comfort.
