Delivering Meaningful Change

The College of Charleston at West Edge wanted to develop a space that would maximize natural light for all occupants while encouraging collaboration and spontaneous interaction.

Fostering New Behavior

Space efficiencies gained from open-office workstations allowed the integration of river-facing public amenity spaces such as a community lounge, kitchen, and multi-purpose room. New café-height community tables and adjustable-height worksurfaces allow for healthy movement, collaboration, and spontaneous interaction between floors and departments.

“It was a labor of love to provide a light-filled, efficient, and dynamic work environment for my colleagues and friends. This would not have been possible without the help of our dedicated team of designers, suppliers, contractors, project managers, and administrators.”
