CARE & MAINTENANCE

SOLID WOOD

NORMAL CLEANING

Use a little amount of water on a cloth to treat a solid wood surface.

CLEANING WITH DETERGENT

Before using this method try the recommended “normal cleaning” above.

If water only is insufficient, you can use a cleaning detergent. Please avoid using an aggressive cleaning product. Our advice is to use a detergent that is specifically for wood and does not contain bleach, silicones or abrasives.

We recommended trying a cleaning product on an unseen side first. For example on the bottom of the wooden furniture.

LAMINATE

NORMAL CLEANING

Use a little amount of water on a cloth to treat a laminate surface.

CLEANING WITH DETERGENT

Before using this method try the recommended “normal cleaning” above.

If water only is insufficient, you can use a universal cleaner. Please avoid using an aggressive cleaning product. Our advice is to use a ph-neutral universal cleaner that does not contain abrasives. If necessary, scrub gently with a soft sponge, do not use anything abrasive so as to prevent surface from scratching. Afterwards, wipe surface down using clean water on a cloth.

CARE & MAINTENANCE

UPHOLSTERY FABRIC

NORMAL CLEANING

Vacuum frequently, ideally once a week. Wipe upholstery fabrics made from polyurethane with a dry or moist cloth. You may also vacuum clean with a soft brush.

CLEANING WITH DETERGENT

Before using this method try the recommended “normal cleaning” above.

Remove stains by carefully dabbing with a cloth wrung out in warm water. Avoid edge marks by dabbing gently in circular motions towards the center of the stain. Remove greasy stains by using appropriate detergents or solvents.

We recommend testing cleaning products and stain-removal agents on an unseen area first to see the effect.

CARE & MAINTENANCE

PET FELT

NORMAL CLEANING

Vacuum frequently, ideally once a week. Dab PET felt with a dry or moist cloth. Do not rub! Rubbing can cause damage and bald spots.

CLEANING WITH DETERGENT

Before using this method try the recommended “normal cleaning” above.

If stain remains, try adding more water. Due to its porous structure, PET felt cannot be damaged by water. Again, do not rub! Rubbing can cause damage and bald spots. Dab with a dry towel while PET felt is still wet.

For stubborn stains where just water is insufficient, you may use a cleaning product called the James cleaning set. Depending on the type of stain, James cleaning provides different cleaning methods. Please read their manual carefully.
