Always the Right Fit

The latest back technology, combined with multiple personalized features, create a unique seating experience for highly collaborative and active workstyles.

Intelliform™ technology includes a polymer back, allowing the material to flex and move with the user.

The open arms adjust in four directions and recline with the back to support your body in many positions.

Optional external lumbar support can be added at any time.

Weight-activated motion allows for a balanced recline and healthy movement without manual adjustment.
