

Government Solutions

The important work of government, at any level or any department, is enhanced by workplaces that support concentrated efforts, collaborative activities, and overall performance efficiency.

This collection of ideas and thought starters is a visual representation of the importance of supporting the work of individuals, teams, and the organization as a whole through a variety of space typologies we refer to as solo, team, and community.

The Need for Privacy

TREND: IMPACTFUL OFFICES IN A SMALLER FOOTPRINT

The private office has evolved dramatically, from being primarily a symbol of rank or achievement to now being a place that delivers necessary levels of privacy. The footprints of these offices have been reduced, but these spaces are being called upon to deliver enhanced features and higher levels of performance.

Far from disappearing, the private office now offers new levels of support for specific governmental functions.

Spaces to Concentrate

TREND: PRIVACY IN AN OPEN PLAN – FOCUS FOR PERFORMANCE

Your staff need places to sit, focus, and perform, even if for just a few moments.

Consider providing a variety of configurations where your work force can retreat and concentrate.

Diverse Needs, a Variety of Options

TREND: AN AGILE RETURN TO OFFICE

The right furniture and furniture configurations create workplaces where genuine work is performed and where users can be most effective.

Shrinking Spaces, Growing Expectations

Nearby soft seating promotes comfortable conversations that help build connections or encourage sharing of important insights and project challenges.

Bringing People Together is Powerful

TREND: POWER AND POSTURE MAKE COLLABORATION MORE EFFECTIVE

A work force that is challenged to perform and deliver requires furniture that adapts to their needs. Technology connectivity is an absolute prerequisite, along with having the comfort to simply converse.

A casual setting does not necessarily signal low productivity, but instead often promotes interactions that spark ideas and deliver results. Adaptive offices help maximize functionality by also allowing for team huddles or impromptu meetings.

The Power of Collaboration

TREND: COLLABORATION MATTERS

Today's focus on teamwork and collaboration requires spaces where people actually want to gather at inviting and comfortable settings. And the tools for effective work should be at their fingertips. That's when collaboration matters.

Relevant and Useful

TREND: TEAMS AT THE TABLE

For all that has changed in the workplace, a conference table with quality seating remains a key ingredient for work. These settings provide a familiar functionality and all the tools to meet, plan, decide, and go forward. Gather the team in style.
