

Q: What storage products are compatible with storage island applications?

A: Due to the hardware required, storage islands are specific to Align™ and Essentials™ storage products. Involve® storage cannot be used in this application.

Q: Can I use footed storage for storage island applications?

A: Yes. You will want to consider the aesthetics of shrouding (wrapping) footed storage units, however.

Q: Are all standard laminate options available for storage islands?

A: Most, but not all, standard laminates are available. See the online Casegoods & Storage Price & Specification Guide for details.

Q: Are storage islands available in veneer?

A: Veneer is currently not available for storage island applications.

Q: How do the parts attach to storage units?

A: End Panels, tops, and septums attach with screws. This is not considered a situation where the storage unit is "defaced," voiding the warranty. The warranty on storage units is still in effect in storage island applications.

Q: Is it possible to have a freestanding island without storage?

A: Storage island applications require Align or Essentials storage products. This provides the necessary structure and support and anchors the configuration from being easily moved. There are applications (peninsula, for example) where storage is located at only one end of the configuration with a connecting open worksurface span.

Q: Are existing laminate storage tops being discontinued?

A: Yes. Due to storage islands offering a wide variety of shrouded and non-shrouded solutions, current 18"D and 36"D laminate storage tops (models AFNL-) will be discontinued February 28, 2021. 24"D tops and veneer tops will remain available.
