Set the stage for your success

Team Cohesion. No matter how connected an organization is digitally, the synergy of your team relies on interaction and spaces to get the job done. Whether that requires spaces for solo work, a standing-height table for impromptu brainstorming meetings, or a variety of seating options for weekly check-ins, the right furniture can provide the support needed to tackle the task head-on.

Instinctive Reactions

Employees need spaces that invite them to sit and create in ways that feel natural, encouraging seamless interactions, conceiving creative solutions, and fostering collaborations across teams and departments.

Interactions are bolstered by furniture that allows common areas to become communal through casual seating and movable surfaces that support the natural movements of the body. With this in mind, Allsteel and Gunlocke design furniture elements to promote intuitive collaboration with the space and each other.

Recharge™

Function meets form. Easily reconfigured and customized for your team's unique working style and aesthetic, the Recharge mix-and-match elements put the user in charge. Designed to sit, move, work, perch, display and play, the collection's versatility and sleek lines allows it to fit any need your team may have.

Clubhouse™

Seclusion without exclusion. Whether an individual is looking for seclusion, or a team is developing a new idea, Clubhouse is the one-size-fits-all solution for offices needing a place to get away. Optional privacy panels transform the seating space into a stand-alone conference room without the need for structural renovations.

Visual Clarity

Effective workplaces pare down to only what's necessary: clean, timeless, simple design. A minimalist aesthetic and refined lines elevate a space without stealing the spotlight.

Set the stage for the work that needs to be done with classic profiles and clean lines.

Clarity®

Pure minimalism. Designed in collaboration with BMW Group Designworks, Clarity was developed with reductionist philosophy: remove the extraneous elements until only the essential remains. The result is a minimalist form that easily adapts to any space or need. The mesh seat and back automatically react to the user, providing flexible comfort that anticipates your every move.

Briefing™

By Gunlocke

Purposeful flexibility. Ultra practical in any office setting, IDA Design created Briefing Occasional as a collection of furniture that supports a myriad of daily uses. The beauty of Briefing exists in its ability to adapt and bring purpose to any space with a wide range of interactive applications. From occasional, conference, and collaborative settings Briefing is exactly what you need, when you need it.

Calm™

By Gunlocke

Tranquility at work. Calm blends into any workplace environment with geometric shapes, rounded edges, and soft cushions that can be used in lobbies, collaboration spaces, and offices. Creating harmony with limitless configurations and timeless aesthetic, this collection is as approachable as it is adaptable for the changing workforce.

Trillia™

By Gunlocke

Stately sophistication. Trillia is the next generation of modern elegance, blending into its environment as a full-time fixture or easy-to-move seating when needed. Made of solid ash and personalized with either a solid wood or upholstered top, as well as the choice between bar-height, counter-height, or standard-height, Trillia delivers tasteful simplicity for ever-changing office needs.

Refined Aesthetic

The aesthetic duality of molded glass and carved wood intertwined. Textured textiles that delight under-hand as much as they do the eyes. Undulating lines revealing then concealing. Traditional uniformity is replaced by forms that break out from the norm to celebrate authenticity.

Allsteel and Gunlocke bring engaging profiles and contrasts into the office setting with premium materials and rolling lines that are instantly indicative of solace. By experimenting with design, products can be both comfortable and optimized for productivity, and as unique as the offices they inhabit.

Rainlight Design Studio

Susan Grossinger and Yorgo Lykouria met in 2014 and founded Rainlight Design Studio ("Rainlight") in 2018 as an integrated firm spanning London and Los Angeles. With client collaborations across North America, Europe, and Asia, the firm discovers the needs of a changing world through cross-cultural research and a network of expertise in various sectors.

Part Laboratory, part Workshop, part Studio, Rainlight™ product design combines inspired design thinking with business acumen to enhance how people live, work, and play in the real world.

Rainlight is a synergy of business and culture that understands market drivers. They call it desire. The 'market' is composed of people with their own thoughts, impulses, and emotions. The true end-user is human nature itself. Rainlight creates experiences to evoke wonder through resonance with human emotion.

The Rainlight body of work explores new ways of thinking to create products that break the mould, yet appear that they've been there all along. It is a privilege and responsibility to create for the human-made world and our team looks to the future as a better place that is our responsibility to deliver. It is about materials and processes that affect the environment and it is also about the images placed in human consciousness. Form matters. The studio's work today is a message for the future.

Rainlight use design thinking as a way of answering a question or responding to a challenge, and are aware that a single process does not suit every occasion. That is why the work of Rainlight begins with research and planning a process that guides the team and the client toward realizing a vision that is relevant for the times and resonates with people.

IDA Design

IDA Design: A good design often needs to do more than one thing. So does a good designer. IDA Design principal Mitch Bakker has done many things throughout his career, all of which add to the culture of the firm. He founded IDA Design after spending years sitting as head of product design for leading furniture manufacturers. Mitch understands the importance of putting the client goals on par with the designer's vision and pushes the team toward results that realize both. A highly respected designer in his own right, Mitch remains very hands-on in the design process. His trips to Zambia and Haiti and volunteer work in local ministries have strengthened his faith, deepened his passion, and inspired an ongoing commitment to action in the area of social justice.

Bendtsen Design Associates

Truly elegant design solutions are created by finding a harmony between the contour lines of a product and the technical components that hold it together.

Bendtsen Design Associates (BDA) is a multi-faceted Design Studio based in Vancouver, BC, Canada. The studio is composed of Niels Bendtsen, Giancarlo Stefani, and studio support staff; between them, there is a broad range of experience, expertise, and know-how that is translated into every product the studio develops.

The inspiration and inception for every product is anchored by technical knowledge and understanding of production and manufacturing that comes from more than a half century in the industry. This deep understanding informs the development process and creates elegant development solutions.

Both sons of cabinet makers, Niels Bendtsen and Giancarlo Stefani grew up in proximity to furniture and realized early on that they wanted to spend their lives working in Design. From Denmark, and Italy, to Venezuela, and finally to Canada – both men have worked extensively in the field, and have found a synergy in each other's work.

Joey Ruiter

Award winning and globally acclaimed designer, Joey Ruiter pushes through the boundaries of the norm and finds new ways to solve problems which leads to products that are as useful as they are jaw dropping. He has the ability to see around the expected and to notice the unexpected in otherwise ordinary things. He can't wait to strip a machine down to the bare parts so that he can start over. From office furniture makers and power boaters to urban fashionistas, Ruiter helps businesses redefine and reintroduce their products to the design-savvy public who is always ready for something new.

You can find Ruiter featured in a wide range of various media including Popular Science, Metropolis, GQ, Auto Blog, Discovery Channel and GeekWeek. When he's not meeting with industry leaders or magazine interviewers, he's probably at home in West Michigan doing what he loves best. Making things. Things that are seen, made and sold all over the world.

Joey Ruiter is redefining expectations in the world of art and design. A major influence in the global design community, he has earned best-in-class recognition for his work. His signature is design that meets everyday needs in surprising ways – pushing limits to confront established expectations. His eclectic mix ranges from office furniture to sculpture, concept watercraft to household objects, even bicycles and birdhouses.

TWO-THIRDS

“I see the designer’s role to lead people to what’s next... to push, to imagine, to create something great.”

Norm Architects

Much like human well-being, the essence of Norm Architects' work is found in balance – between richness and restraint, between order and complexity. Each project – whether architecture, interiors, design or creative direction – is imbued with the same intrinsic quality: a simplicity that carries bigger ideas. Guided by the body and mind rather than by trends or technology, their projects explore ideas that not only look good but that also feel good: Architecture becomes thoughtful, minimalism acquires softness and visual matter assumes haptic qualities. Their work is sharp and crisp and exudes, tacitly, and a focus on quality, details and durability.

PARK

“We’ve always tried to work with a narrative that kind of carries a bigger idea that transcends functionality and aesthetics.”

Alyssa Coletti

Alyssa Coletti established Nonfiction Creative, LLC in 2010 as a multidisciplinary studio specializing in furniture design.

Alyssa's early career was spent as an in-house designer for Bernhardt Design, Lenovo and Williams-Sonoma Home. Throughout the developmental period of her career, Alyssa frequently interacted with and participated in the design processes of established multi-national designers. Alyssa's experiences provided her with the opportunity to design a wide variety of products and to focus on identifying, understanding and refining the essential elements of the form, concept, and craft in her designs.

Erin Ruby

Erin Ruby is an American designer of interiors and products, known for her holistic approach to design. She is based in New York City where she founded her practice. Having worked at renowned architecture firms in the commercial interiors sector for over 15 years, Erin applies her interior design expertise to product development. Her innate understanding of how spaces work and how people interact with them informs her furniture and textile designs.

Erin has worked as lead designer for architecture firms in Atlanta, Virginia Beach and New York. Her work has garnered numerous design awards and has been featured in publications such as Metropolis, Interior Design, Architectural Record, Contract, Interiors & Sources, Azure, and The Wall Street Journal.

Playfulness

Expressive and novel; agile and distinct. Inviting playfulness into the workplace has redefined the ways in which creativity is crafted while maintaining sophistication. Embracing freedom to think outside the box, offices are no longer buttoned-up or stuffy, instead exploring the human nature of redefining our environment through lightheartedness.

Corporate dress codes are moving away from buttoned-ups, heels, and ties, so shouldn't your furniture as well? With collections of intriguing shapes, bold colors, and tempting agility, Allsteel and Gunlocke give you the tools to embrace all the ways your organization stands out from the crowd.

Townhall™

Easy movement. Individual and group activities carried out in modern, shared spaces require a certain degree of flexibility, privacy, and functionality. Townhall creates sought-after, active enclaves that support multiple work modes and the changing postures necessary for individual or team work.

Picnic™ is a collection of seated-height and standing-height tables, benches, and stools that turns underutilized, out-of-the-way spaces into agile touchdown areas for personal or team work.

Rock™ supports an upright posture preferred for work with a rocking base that encourages action and motion.

Peak™ has a gently sloped back providing lumbar and back support while offering a measure of privacy for those seeking concentration. Bringing together a collection of mobile and modular furniture that effortlessly creates agile work areas.

Picnic Stool thoughtfully layers together to optimize space and enable easy movement.

Summit™ is a lightweight stool that declutters the visual landscape with its versatile, stackable design.

Wedge™ is a multi-purpose solution that provides privacy for individuals seeking solitude in shared spaces.

“Because people reconfigure it so much, with every piece there is almost an intuitive way they go together, but at the same time, there is no right way.”

When researching contemporary office needs, Allsteel recognized the need for easily configured spaces which allow for all-hands meetings that then can be redeployed for individuals or small teams throughout the rest of the week. Pieces in the Townhall Collection can be used together to accommodate large groups and independently for solo work.

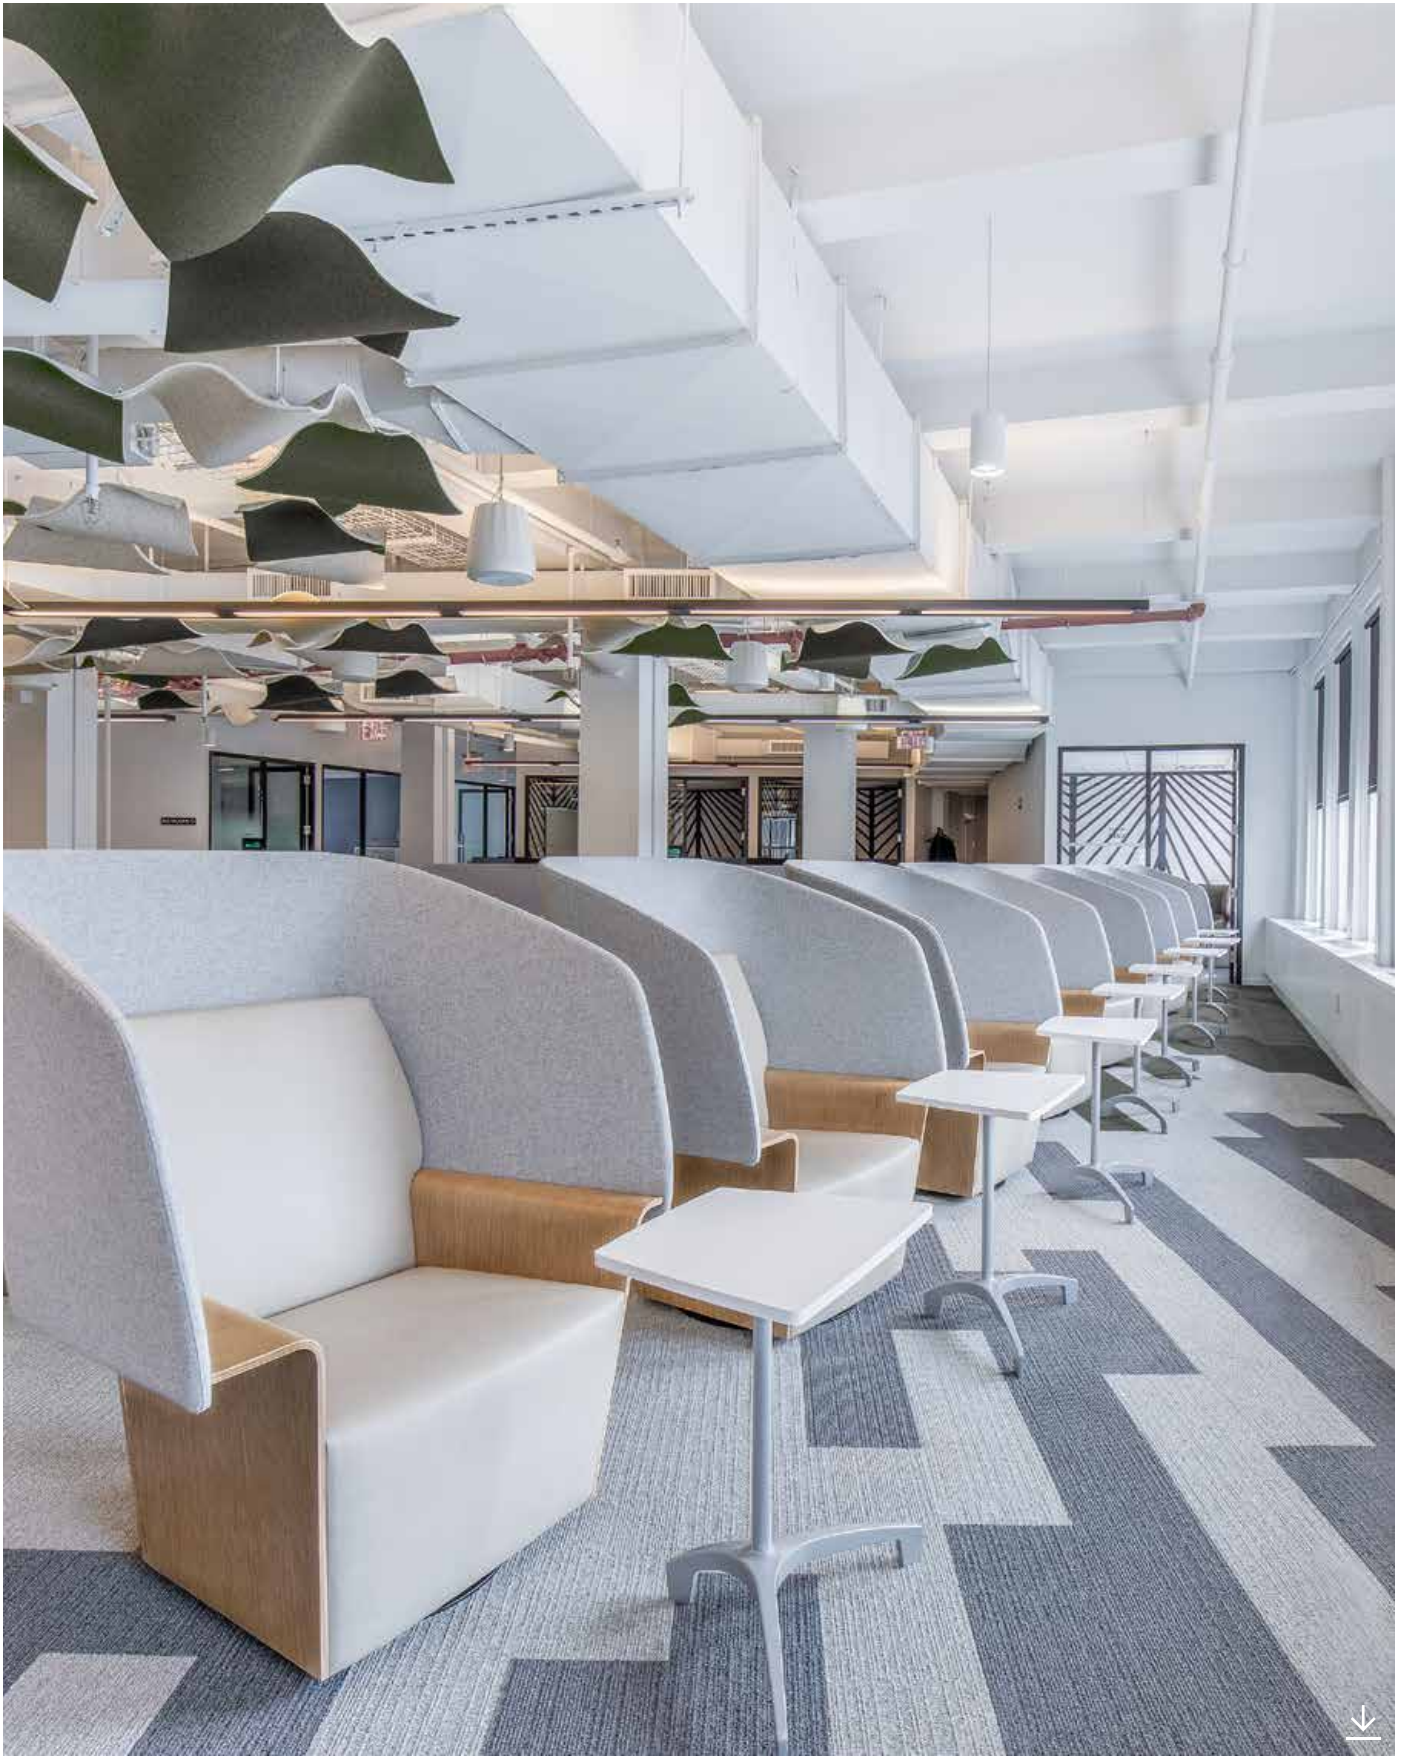

Reflect

Reflect®

Redefining personal space. An all-in-one privacy pod and solo space, Reflect is a personal soft-seating solution that supports individual collaboration within the work environment or small group focus when multiple units are used together. Reflect creates personal space within the open office – in the hallway, adjacent to a row of workstations, or near a wall of windows.

Beyond®

Outside the box. With the ever-changing needs of contemporary offices, making permanent changes to the floorplan can be a costly mistake. Beyond provides simple and efficient – yet changeable – wall systems in three solutions so your office works for you.

C O P E N H A G E N

Danish disposition. Allsteel and Normann Copenhagen bring accessible Danish design state-side with a contract line that balances sensibility and geometric simplicity. The full line of original and innovative products withstands the test of time and elevates contemporary design.

Purposeful Design

Refined through craftsmanship. Mindful of minute details. Purposeful Design delights in traditional processes and knowledge, and balances the conventional and the contemporary. Organizations know that although they need to stay up-to-date, they have a rich heritage.

Every office has a past and a future that can be brought together in dynamically creative ways within the present. Allsteel and Gunlocke products blend tradition and innovation, whether using bent-wood silhouettes for materials like steel, or upholstering with textural, residential-like wovens – bringing the past to the present.

Park™

By Norm Architects

Supporting active work. The desire for open, social areas in corporate settings is increasing, and for good reason; these spaces provide a private get-away from the main workspace and promote collaboration. Park gives employees a warm, comfortable place for private work or to converse and build upon ideas.

Calia

Calia™

By Gunlocke

Classic meets modern. Calia bridges the gap between conventional and contemporary guest seating. The beautiful steam-bent back juxtaposed to the severe angle of the back leg signals the dynamic shift of the Gunlocke brand; highlighting the past with traditional craftsmanship and nodding to the future with a modern sensibility.

Blend beautifully. Rustic and modern with interlocking joinery and smoothed transitions, Saranac echoes a subtle balance in the relationship between outside and in, shifting uses as needed. The collection includes tables and companion furniture, benches and credenzas. Saranac is minimalism at work.

Personalized

Today, end-users want to personalize their environments to fit their tastes and lifestyle. Rather than being one of many off of the assembly line, offices are embracing their brand identity by finding ways to translate self into space.

Simultaneously simplifying the specifying process and providing a wide array of personalized elements, Allsteel and Gunlocke provide a canvas on which to design an office space as unique as their brand. By providing a harmonious base of repeating forms, your spaces are able to seamlessly reflect yourselves and your culture.
