Wood Veneer
HBF employs a multi-step finishing process culminating in the application of a highly durable chemical resistant top coat. The finishing material provides for unusual durability and resistance to everyday chemical compounds such as alcohol, mustard, vinegar and nail polish remover. Due to the protection offered by this finish, the care for HBF furniture simply requires gentle dusting of the surface with a soft, moist, lint-free cloth. This should be followed with a drying cloth. Since dust can act as a potential abrasive, improper rubbing can result in fine hairline scratches. The application of any commonly available furniture polish should be avoided.

Solid Surface
Clean surfaces with mild soap and water. Avoid window cleaners and bleach. To remove small fine scratches, pour mild abrasive liquid cleanser onto a damp cloth or sponge. Rub over area using small circular motions until the area has been cleaned. Rinse the top thoroughly with clean water and wipe surface completely dry using a cotton or soft lint free cloth. Repeat if necessary.

Engineered Quartz
For routine cleaning, simply wipe down your surface with a damp cloth or paper towel and, if necessary, a small amount of non-bleach, non-abrasive cleanser. Even though engineered quartz surfaces resist permanent staining when exposed to liquids (such as wine, vinegar, tea, lemon juice and soda) or fruits and vegetables, you will want to wipe up food and liquid spills as soon as possible. For stubborn or dried spills, use a nonabrasive cleaning scrub pad coupled with a glass & surface cleaner or a comparable cleaning product. Engineered quartz surfaces are heat- and scratch-resistant, but not heat- and scratch-proof. We recommend the use of trivets and hot pads. Because it is nonporous, engineered quartz does not require sealants or waxes. Engineered quartz keeps its lustrous gloss and ultra-smooth surface without polishing or applying sealant. Avoid using cleaners that contain bleach. Always follow the cleaner manufacturer's use instructions and exercise proper care when handling and storing any cleaning products. Avoid High-pH cleaners. Casual exposure to alkaline solutions, such as diluted bleach, will not damage engineered quartz surfaces. Highly alkaline (high pH) cleaners, such as oven cleaners and concentrated bleach, are not recommended. Avoid exposing engineered quartz to strong chemicals and solvents, especially paint removers or furniture strippers containing trichlorethane or methylene chloride. Keep nail polish remover, bleach, detergent, permanent markers or inks, and oil soaps away from engineered quartz. Keep permanent markers and inks away from engineered surfaces. Should these materials come into contact with the surface, clean first as outlined above in the Routine Cleaning section. If the stain persists, moisten a cloth with Goo Gone®, or a comparable product, and rub it into the stain. Rinse thoroughly with warm water to remove any cleaner residue. Materials that harden as they dry (such as gum, food, grease, nail polish or paint) are especially tenacious. Remove these by gently scraping away the excess with a plastic putty knife.

Marble
Marble is a natural material that develops character over time. To preserve its beauty, spills should be removed promptly, as liquids can penetrate the surface and cause permanent staining or etching. Particular care should be taken with acidic substances such as wine, coffee, fruit juice, tomato sauce, and nail polish remover. If a spill occurs, blot immediately and follow with a clean, damp cloth.

Protect the surface from heat, moisture, and abrasion by using coasters, trivets, and placemats. Regular dusting with a clean, soft cloth will help minimize scratches and wear associated with everyday use.

For routine cleaning, wipe the surface with a clean, non-abrasive cloth or sponge dampened with warm water. A pH-neutral cleaner formulated specifically for natural stone may be used periodically to remove residue not addressed through regular cleaning.

Avoid general-purpose cleaners, furniture polishes, and products containing bleach, lemon, vinegar, or other acidic ingredients, as these may damage the finish or etch the surface. Abrasive powders, creams, and scouring products should also be avoided, as they may scratch the marble.

Failure to follow cleaning protocols, and stains due to customer neglect are no warrantied.
