PROBLEM

POOR HEALTH

Poor health costs the U.S. economy
$576 billion a year
* Forbes

PRODUCTIVITY LOSSES

Health-related productivity losses cost employers $227 billion per year
* Forbes

COST SAVINGS

For every $1 spent on workplace wellness programs, employers can save up to $6 on healthcare costs
* Forbes

Poor health is bad for business. Chronic disease drives healthcare expenditures, which cuts into profit and productivity. Workplace productivity suffers when poor health results in employee absenteeism or when employees report to work but illness keeps them from performing at their best.

SOLUTION

Promotional products can play a key role in a comprehensive health and wellness program that focuses on reducing healthcare costs, reducing absenteeism and improving productivity. Improve employee wellness by offering products that will motivate them to make healthy decisions and stay active.
