

ABOUT

Working for the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services and two of Ohio's largest health systems inspired Faisal to bridge the gap between large, often bureaucratic healthcare institutions, and the fast-paced innovators seeking to help them serve their patients and communities in new and unique ways.

Faisal is driven to help healthcare institutions weave diversity, equity, and inclusion (DEI) initiatives into their culture to increase value. Patients, providers, and institutions suffer when diversity of ideas, systems, processes, and strategic thinking is lacking.

Faisal serves on the Executive Committee/Board of Trustees of one of Cleveland's classic theater companies and on the Executive Committee/Board of Directors of a cares agency that provides comprehensive healthcare and social services to children, adolescents, and families living in Northeast Ohio.

He and his family live in Shaker Heights, Ohio, where he serves on the Shaker Heights School District Educational Equity Implementation Advisory Team.

CONTRIBUTIONS

What stands in the way of innovation? More often than not, bureaucracy. And that's where Faisal comes in. He partners with healthcare leaders to improve flexibility and fluidity of business operations. This is his mission as Chair of the Enterprise Risk Management Affinity Group for the American Health Law Association's Hospitals and Health Systems Practice Group.

Faisal's "never say no" attitude and talent in uniting stakeholders for a common purpose makes him an excellent resource for conversations around achieving transformational change in complex environments.

IDEAL AUDIENCES

- Hospitals and Health Systems
- Innovation Centers
- Providers looking to establish a higher standard of care through breakthrough technologies and operational efficiencies
- Digital Health players

Faisal's infectious laugh and sense of humor make him an audience favorite for explaining complex topics.

TALKING POINTS

- Hospitals, health systems, and practices – compliance, supply chain, research, litigation, quality, HR and employment, provider education and training, patient experience, and operational-legal considerations
- Enterprise risk management
- U.S. Department of Health and Human Services - navigating the large bureaucracy for policy change and action taken
- HHS OIG subpoenas and DOJ investigations
- Healthcare litigation
- Adoption of innovative healthcare technologies
- Regulatory barriers that thwart healthcare innovations and recommendations to remove those barriers
