

Heather Alice Shea M.S.

CEO & founder of Atmana Academy, Heather trains and certifies emerging intuitive coaches into purpose first, profit-next businesses that thrive. Her passion is teaching healers, entrepreneurs, and coaches how to master superior coaching skills and harness the power of their intuition for a bolder business and a bigger bottom line. Using her research-supported methodologies that yield faster results, she's helped hundreds of clients across five continents turn their soul's mission into a movement that elevates everyone they serve. A former psychotherapist turned master coach, her work has been featured in top publications like Spirituality & Health Magazine, Mind Body Green, Brainz Magazine, and Best Self Magazine. When not working, she loves running on the beach and advocating for mental health and human rights issues via her charity, Free Humanity Foundation.
