THE OUTDOOR BARBEQUE RANGE

Stoddart Town and Park proudly manufactures quality outdoor furniture solutions for a range of small to large outdoor projects here in Australia. Flexibility, experience and commitment are at the forefront of the rigorous research and development process.

The new Town and Park barbeque range offers a heavy duty, fully welded, 3mm thick stainless steel hotplate and three layers of insulation to assist with heat retention. While providing higher thermal mass, the hotplates innovative design allows for flow control with a rear drain hole, ensuring an easier cooking and cleaning experience.

Town and Park prioritise both simplicity and flexibility for the end user. The hotplate has been engineered to fit seamlessly into any standard or non-standard bases currently used in councils throughout Australia.

The hotplate can also be supplied pre-fitted into Stoddart's own custom DDA-compliant cabinet, which has been constructed for those in wheelchairs who can use the cantilevered design to position themselves close to the hotplates for easy cooking. Larger frames also have the flexibility to be fitted with a fully welded sink bowl or a second hot plate to suit any desired application.

Operated via an easy-to-use, sleek control panel with vandal-resistant piezoelectric start button and dual "power on" and "ready" indicator lights. This new barbeque unit can be customised with any colour selection from the Dulux powdercoat range.
