“A strong start to the year, including another very high SPNOI print. There is considerable upward pressure on rents in IIP's major markets and we expect these favorable conditions to persist for the next few years. We think the backdrop for management's value-add business plan is just about ideal and it continues to demonstrate skillful execution.”

- Michael Smith, RBC Capital Markets
May 14, 2018

“SPNOI Hits 8-Year High: InterRent saw SPNOI grow at a massive +16%, the highest it's been since 2Q11 and at the top of North American apartment REITs. Stabilized property rents grew +5% (a record high), occupancy was up +180 bp and margin jumped +240 bp y/y.”

- Ken Avalos, Raymond James

“We maintain our Outperform rating, but have increased our target price to $11.75 from $10.50. Our target price is based on a ~21% premium to NAV, which we think is justified by the REIT's organic growth potential. A tightening rental market is giving landlords further ability to push rents. We think IIP's value-add strategy, potentially including building on excess density at some of its sites, and a landlord-friendly market in Ontario and Quebec justify a positive outlook on InterRent.”

- Troy MacLean, BMO Capital Markets
