when I grow
up, I want to be a Baseball
player!!!

Last year Jack was too sick to dream.
He has Primary Immunodeficiency or PI.
Thanks to the Jeffrey Modell Foundation,
he was properly diagnosed and treated...
Now he holds the future in his hands.
