Introduction / Introducción

Televes' Intelligent TV Antenna, does not need to be aimed. An intelligent BOSS system (Balanced Output Signal System) is dynamically adjusted in real time to provide the best TV signal automatically. Developed with our unique TForce technology, it provides exceptionally stable reception within a greater coverage area. In order to power up the antenna, it is necessary to install the power injector between the antenna and the TV, and power it whether with a PSU, charger or from the USB port of the TV (see figure). In good coverage areas, the antenna can also operate in passive mode (without power).
