Explanation of Graphical Symbols Explication des symboles

The lightning flash with arrowhead symbol within an equilateral triangle is intended to alert the user to the presence of uninsulated "dangerous voltage" within the product's enclosure that may be of sufficient magnitude to constitute a risk of electric shock to persons. L'éclair avec une flèche à l'intérieur d'un triangle équilatéral est destiné à attirer l'attention de l'utilisateur sur la présence d'une « tension dangereuse » non isolée à l'intérieur de l'appareil, pouvant être suffisamment élevée pour constituer un risque d'électrocution.

The exclamation point within an equilateral triangle is intended to alert the user to the presence of important operating and maintenance (servicing) instructions in the literature accompanying the product. Le point d'exclamation à l'intérieur d'un triangle équilatéral est destiné à attirer l'attention de l'utilisateur sur la présence d'instructions importantes sur l'emploi ou la maintenance (réparation) de l'appareil dans la documentation fournie.

PRECAUTIONS

PLEASE READ CAREFULLY BEFORE PROCEEDING

Please keep this manual in a safe place for future reference.

WARNING

Always follow the basic precautions listed below to avoid the possibility of serious injury or even death from electrical shock, short-circuiting, damages, fire or other hazards. These precautions include, but are not limited to, the following:

Power supply/power cord

- Do not damage the power cable or the LAN cable. Failure to observe this precaution could result in fire, electric shock, or damage to the product.
 - Do not place heavy objects on the cable.
 - Do not process the cable in any way.
 - Do not use staples to fix the cable in place.
 - Do not apply excessive force to the cable.
 - Be sure to keep the cable away from anything hot.
- Only use the voltage specified as correct for the device. The required voltage is printed on the name plate of the device.
- Use only the supplied power cord/plug. If you intend to use the device in an area other than in the one you purchased, the included power cord may not be compatible. Please check with your Yamaha dealer.
- Check the electric plug periodically and remove any dirt or dust which may have accumulated on it.
- When setting up the device, make sure that the AC outlet you are using is easily accessible. If some trouble or malfunction occurs, immediately disconnect the plug from the outlet. As long as the power cord is not unplugged from the wall AC outlet, the device will not be disconnected from the power source.
- Be sure to fully and securely insert the power plug into the AC outlet. If the power plug is not fully inserted, use of this product could cause an electric shock. Also, the plug could collect dust, possibly resulting in excessive heat or fire.
- Remove the electric plug from the outlet when the device is not to be used for extended periods of time, or during electrical storms.
- Be sure to connect to an appropriate outlet with a protective grounding connection.
- If you plan to connect a powered device that complies with the IEEE802.3at standards, use a CAT5e or higher-grade cable. Failure to observe this precaution could result in a fire or malfunction.

Do not open

- This device contains no user-serviceable parts. Do not open the device or attempt to disassemble the internal parts or modify them in any way. If it should appear to be malfunctioning, discontinue use immediately and have it inspected by qualified Yamaha service personnel.

Water warning

- Do not expose the device to rain, use it near water or in damp or wet conditions, or place on it any containers (such as vases, bottles or glasses) containing liquids which might spill into any openings. If any liquid such as water seeps into the device, unplug the power cord from the AC outlet. Then have the device inspected by qualified Yamaha service personnel.
- Never insert or remove an electric plug with wet hands.

Hearing loss

- When turning on the AC power in your audio system, always turn on the power amplifier LAST, to avoid hearing loss and speaker damage. When turning the power off, the power amplifier should be turned off FIRST for the same reason.

Fire warning

- Do not place any burning items or open flames near the device, since they may cause a fire.

If you notice any abnormality

- If any of the following problems occur, disconnect the electric plug from the outlet.
 - The power cord or plug becomes frayed or damaged.
 - Unusual smells or smoke are emitted.
 - Some object has been dropped into the device.
 - Cracks or other visible damage appear on the device.Then have the device inspected or repaired by qualified Yamaha service personnel.

Always follow the basic precautions listed below to avoid the possibility of physical injury to you or others, or damage to the device or other property. These precautions include, but are not limited to, the following:

Power supply/power cord

- When removing the electric plug from the device or an outlet, always hold the plug itself and not the cord. Pulling by the cord can damage it.

Location

- Do not place the device in an unstable position where it might accidentally fall over and cause injuries.
- Do not block the vents. This device has ventilation holes at the top to prevent the internal temperature from becoming too high. In particular, do not place the device on its side or upside down. Inadequate ventilation can result in overheating, possibly causing damage to the device(s), or even fire.
- When installing the device:
 - Do not cover it with any cloth.
 - Do not install it on a carpet or rug.
 - Make sure the top surface faces up; do not install on its sides or upside down.
 - Do not use the device in a confined, poorly-ventilated location.

Inadequate ventilation can result in overheating, possibly causing damage to the device(s), or even fire. If this device is to be used in a small space other than an EIA-standard rack, make sure that there is adequate space around the device: at least 1.3 cm above.

- Do not place the device in a location where it may come into contact with corrosive gases or salt air. Doing so may result in malfunction.
- Before moving the device, remove all connected cables.
- If the device is mounted in an EIA standard rack, carefully read the section “Attaching the rack mount” on page 17. Inadequate ventilation can result in overheating, possibly causing damage to the device(s), malfunction, or even fire.

Maintenance

- Remove the power plug from the AC outlet when cleaning the device.

Handling caution

- Avoid inserting or dropping foreign objects (paper, plastic, metal, etc.) into any gaps or openings on the device (vents, panel, etc.) If this happens, have the device inspected by qualified Yamaha service personnel.
- Do not rest your weight on the device or place heavy objects on it. Avoid applying excessive force to the buttons, switches or connectors to prevent injuries.
- Avoid pulling the connected cables to prevent injuries or damage to the device.

Yamaha cannot be held responsible for damage caused by improper use or modifications to the device.

NOTICE

To avoid the possibility of malfunction/ damage to the product, damage to data, or damage to other property, follow the notices below.

Handling and maintenance

- Do not touch any port with your fingers or anything metallic. Failure to observe this precaution could result in damage to the product.
- Do not use the device in the vicinity of a TV, radio, AV equipment, mobile phone, or other electric devices. Otherwise, the device, TV, or radio may generate noise.
- Do not expose the device to excessive dust or vibration, or extreme cold or heat (such as in direct sunlight, near a heater, or in a car during the day), in order to prevent the possibility of panel disfiguration, unstable operation, or damage to the internal components.
- Do not place vinyl, plastic or rubber objects on the device, since this might discolor the panel.
- When cleaning the device, use a dry and soft cloth. Do not use paint thinners, solvents, cleaning fluids, or chemical-impregnated wiping cloths.
- Condensation can occur in the device due to rapid, drastic changes in ambient temperature—when the device is moved from one location to another, or air conditioning is turned on or off, for example. Using the device while condensation is present can cause damage. If there is reason to believe that condensation might have occurred, leave the device for several hours without turning on the power until the condensation has completely dried out.

- Be sure to earth (ground) any static electricity from your body or clothing before touching the product. Failure to observe this precaution could result in damage to the product.
- Do not install the product in a location where magnetic fields are strong. Otherwise, it might cause the product to malfunction.
- Do not connect any noise generating devices on the same power line as the product. Failure to observe this precaution could result in a malfunction or damage to the product.
- Do not locate any connected LAN cables close to the power cord. Otherwise, high voltage might be induced, resulting in malfunction.
- A 1000BASE-T connection will require an Enhanced Category 5 (CAT5e) or better LAN cable.
- The rubber feet included in this package can be attached to the device to prevent slippage when it is to be used on a slippery surface.

About functions/data bundled with the device

Controls and Connectors

Front panel

■ SWR2100P-10G

■ SWR2100P-5G

① POWER indicator

Lights up when power is provided to the unit.

POWER indicator	Power
Light off	OFF
Light on (green)	ON

② PoE LIMIT indicator

Indicates the status of maximum power supply.

PoE LIMIT indicator	Maximum power supply
Light off	Lower than 63 W
Light on (green)	63 W or higher, lower than 70 W
Flashing (green)	70 W or higher

If the total power supply is 63W or higher but lower than 70W (in this case, the PoE LIMIT indicator will light up steadily in green), you will be unable to increase the number of powered devices to which power is supplied. Therefore, if you connect a powered device to a higher-priority port on the unit, power will be supplied to that powered device, but will not be supplied to a powered device connected to a lower-priority port. On the other hand, if you connect a powered device to a lower-priority port on the unit, power will not be supplied to that powered device.

If the total power supply is 70W or higher (in this case, the PoE LIMIT indicator will flash green), power will not be supplied to a lower-priority port.

Port 1 has the highest priority. Priority decreases as the port number increases (1 → 2 → 3 ...). Power consumption on certain powered devices varies between standby mode and operating mode. Check the owner's manual for information on the maximum power consumption of the powered devices to be connected.

③ LINK/ACT indicator

Indicates LAN port status.

LINK/ACT indicator	LAN port status
Light off	Link down. (unavailable)
Light on (green)	Link established. (available)
Flashing (green)	Data is being transferred.
Flashing (orange)	Loop detected.

The loop detection function can be turned ON/OFF using CONFIGURATION switch 4 on the front panel of the main unit. When turned ON, the loop detection function is enabled in all ports, and in the event of loop detection, communication from the corresponding port is automatically blocked. When turned OFF, the loop detection and blocking functions are disabled in all ports.

④ SPEED indicator

Indicates the connection speed of the LAN port.

SPEED indicator	Connection status
Light off	Not connected or connecting via 10BASE-T.
Light on (orange)	Connecting via 100BASE-TX.
Light on (green)	Connecting via 1000BASE-T.

⑤ PoE STATE indicator

Indicates the power supply status.

PoE STATE indicator	Power supply status
Light off	Not supplying ^{*1}
Light on (green)	Supplying
Flashing (green)	Not supplying ^{*2}

*1 The indicator is also turned off if a device is not connected to the corresponding port; if the connected device does not need a power supply; or if power is not being supplied to the device due to a limitation in the unit's total power supply.

*2 The indicator will flash green if power supply is suspended because the power output at the port has exceeded the maximum power supply allowed per port. The maximum power supply allowed per port varies depending on the power consumption class of the connected powered device.

⑥ LAN ports

These are ports for 10BASE-T, 100BASE-TX, and 1000BASE-T. Port #10 on the SWR2100P-10G and port #5 on the SWR2100P-5G are uplink ports, and do not provide a power supply function.

⑦ CONFIGURATION switch

Sets enabling/disabling of functions.

Please refer to “Setting the CONFIGURATION switches” (page 16).

Top panel

⑧ Product label

Indicates the equipment name, serial number, MAC address, etc. of the unit.

Rear panel

⑨ Holes for attaching the power cord clamp

Attach the included power cord clamp (U-shaped type). For information about the attachment method, please refer to “Connections” (page 19).

⑩ Power inlet (3 poles connector, C14-type)

Insert the included power cord. Connect to outlets between AC 100V and AC 240V (50/60 Hz).

Bottom panel

11 Rubber feet installation guide

The following figure shows the position of the included feet when the unit is placed horizontally upside-down.

When placing the unit horizontally, please attach the included feet as indicated in the figure.

Rubber feet installation

Rubber feet

12 Attachment holes for the rack-mount accessory

Use these holes to attach the RK-SWR rack-mount accessory. Refer to "Attaching the rack mount" (page 17) for information on how to install the unit.

Setting the CONFIGURATION switches

You can enable or disable functions for this unit by setting the CONFIGURATION switches.

In order to operate the switches, please use something round, such as the tip of a ballpoint pen or small screwdriver. This unit reads the switch status at startup and enables or disables functions as indicated. If the switch status is changed after startup, the new switch status will be in effect at the next startup.

The functions which can be set via the CONFIGURATION switches are as follows.

No.	Setting function	OFF	ON
1	L2MS (Layer 2 Management Service) function	Disabled	Enabled*
2	Flow control	Disabled	Enabled*
3	Auto MDI/MDI-X	Disabled	Enabled*
4	Loop detection function	Disabled*	Enabled
5	Low power consumption mode	Disabled*	Enabled

* This is the factory default setting.

■ L2MS (Layer 2 Management Service) function

This function manages Yamaha network devices, including this unit, at the layer 2 level. You can control the unit from a Yamaha LAN Monitor that features the L2MS controller function.

■ Low power consumption mode

The lower power consumption mode of this unit is compatible with the following methods of IEEE802.3az Energy Efficient Ethernet (called “EEE” in this manual).

- 10BASE-T_e
- 100BASE-TX/1000BASE-T (LPI)

NOTE

Do not use the EEE function (*) on the network switch within the Dante network. Between switches that feature the EEE function, the setting for power consumption is automatically adjusted. However, some switches might not respond correctly to this adjustment. Therefore, the EEE function on some switches might be enabled accidentally within the Dante network, which might cause clock sync performance to deteriorate and result in audio that breaks up.

* EEE (Energy Efficient Ethernet) function is used to reduce power consumption of Ethernet devices when network traffic is low. This technology is also called “Green Ethernet” or “IEEE802.3az”.

Attaching the rack mount

This section explains how to attach an optional RK-SWR rack mount accessory to the unit.

Please read before mounting the unit into a rack

This unit is guaranteed to operate properly at 0–40 degree Celsius (32–104 degrees Fahrenheit). If you install this unit along with other devices into an EIA-standard rack, the temperature inside the rack may rise due to heat released from the other devices, resulting in poor performance of the unit. To prevent the temperature inside the rack from rising, mount the unit in the rack, adhering to the requirements below:

- If you plan to rack-mount the unit along with a device that tends to generate heat, such as an amplifier (excluding an XMV series), be sure to leave a gap of 1U or more from such devices. Also, be sure to maintain sufficient ventilation in this space by installing a ventilation panel or leaving it open.
- Open the rear panel of the rack, place the rack 10 cm (about four inches) away from the walls and ceiling to keep sufficient ventilation. If you cannot open the rear panel of the rack, install a commercially-available forced ventilation device, such as a fan kit. If you install a fan kit, closing the rear panel may work better for heat dissipation purposes. For more information, refer to the owner's manual for the rack and/or fan kit.

If you plan to relocate the unit, be sure to first remove it from the rack. Moving the unit along with the rack could cause the unit to malfunction.

Caution

If you plan to relocate the rack, be sure to first remove this unit from the rack.

If you move the rack with this unit mounted, vibration or physical shock might cause the rack mount accessory to deform or break, possibly causing injury.

There is also a possibility that this unit might malfunction.

[Installation]

This section explains how to attach the unit in the middle block of a rack mount panel. Even if you plan to attach the unit in the left or right block, follow the procedure below.

Notice

If the supplied feet have already been attached to the unit, remove them.

1. Attaching the rack mount panel to the unit

Use two screws (supplied with the rack-mount accessory) to attach and secure the rack mount panel to the bottom of the unit.

2. Installing the rack mount panel to the 19-inch rack

Use four screws (supplied with an EIA-standard 19-inch rack) to mount the unit into the rack. Be sure to tighten the screws so that they will not get loosened.

You can also mount two units as shown in the figure below.

Connections

1. Connect the LAN port of the network device to the LAN port of this product using a LAN cable.
2. Connect the power cord to a power inlet.

Notice

- We recommend that you attach the supplied power cord clamp to prevent the power cord from accidentally being disconnected.
- This clamp is used only for the supplied power cord.
If you use the clamp for other power cords, they might be damaged or might not secure properly.

3. Connect the power plug to an electrical outlet.

The POWER indicator lights up.

4. Turn the power of the network devices connected to this product ON.

If the LINK/ACT indicator corresponding to the LAN port to which the network device is connected turns green or flashes green, this indicates that the status is normal.

[If the LINK/ACT indicator corresponding to the LAN port does not turn green or flash green]

Please check that the LAN cable is correctly connected and the power of the connected network device is ON.

[If the LINK/ACT indicator corresponding to the LAN port flashes orange]

Loop detected. Please check the LAN cable connection.
