Portfolio The University of Scranton

Weiss Hall at The University of Scranton brings together education, wellness, and community in a space built for impact. JSI partnered with Premier Environments and HC Architects to furnish key areas of the new building. From the natural finish of Vision casegoods in private offices to the welcoming shapes of Indie lounge, each piece supports how people learn, work, and connect.

Throughout the IDEA Center and shared lounge spaces, Poet modular seating offers comfort and flexibility for students on the move. Native conference tables bring clarity to group work and meetings. Indie's leg lounge and tables create inviting moments for conversation or pause. Together, the furniture helps shape an environment where people feel grounded, inspired, and ready to do meaningful work.
