LOCATION OVERVIEW

The Property is situated on an expansive 12.46 acre lot along St. Clair Street in Chatham, Ontario, within the Municipality of Chatham-Kent.

St. Clair Street forms the alignment of Highway 40 through this stretch of the city, giving the site direct frontage on one of Chatham's primary north-south retail corridors. Highway 40 connects south to Highway 401 at an interchange (Exit 90) southeast of the Chatham urban core, providing efficient regional access to London, Windsor, and the broader Highway 401 corridor connecting southwestern Ontario to the Greater Toronto Area.

Pioneer Square is strategically located in Chatham's most dominant retail node, among a concentration of national retailers including The Home Depot, Canadian Tire, and Real Canadian Superstore, as well as the nearby SmartCentres Chatham development at St. Clair Street and Pioneer Line, anchored by Walmart Supercentre with Marks, Winners, PetSmart, and an LCBO. This clustering of destination retail supports strong cross-shopping traffic and reinforces the corridor's position as the city's primary retail trade area.

The Property stands to benefit directly from the approved 774-unit residential development at 770 St. Clair Street, immediately adjacent between Staples and Galaxy Cinemas. Chatham-Kent council approved zoning for the four-tower project, the tallest residential buildings in the municipality's history, in October 2025, with the first ~209-unit tower to follow site plan approval. City planners cite sustained, decades-high population growth driving this shift. For Pioneer Square, it means substantial walkable rooftop density arriving directly at its doorstep.
