Corner Commercial Land Opportunity in a Growing Market Near US 395

Victorville, California is a growing city in Southern California with a population that's projected to increase from $\pm 123,000$ in 2020 to $\pm 184,000$ by 2040. The city of Victorville is experiencing an almost 85 percent increase since 2001, according to the California Department of Finance. Some factors contributing to Victorville's growth include:

Tech hub - Victorville's young population, low cost of living, and pro-business climate have attracted startups and investments like an Amazon warehouse.

New businesses - In 2023, Victorville welcomed 200 new businesses, including CarMax, Superior Grocers, and the High Desert's first Sprouts Farmers Market. Due to its affordable cost of living compared to other parts of California, a growing job market in various sectors such as healthcare and retail, and its diverse range of neighborhoods that cater to different investment strategies and preferences.

Major developments - The Southern California Logistics Airport (SCLA), a 2,200-acre aviation center, is home to major employers including Boeing, General Atomics, International Aerospace Coatings and General Electric. Southern California Logistics Center (SCLC) is located immediately adjacent to SCLA and is home to Keurig, Dr.Pepper/Snapple, Newell Rubbermaid and M&M/Mars. Coca-Cola distribution center is opening at the Foxborough Industrial Park.

Commercial Hub - Victorville is the largest commercial center between San Bernardino and the Nevada border. It's also close to beaches, national parks, and mountain retreats.

CITY OF VICTORVILLE

Victorville

SoCal with Charm!

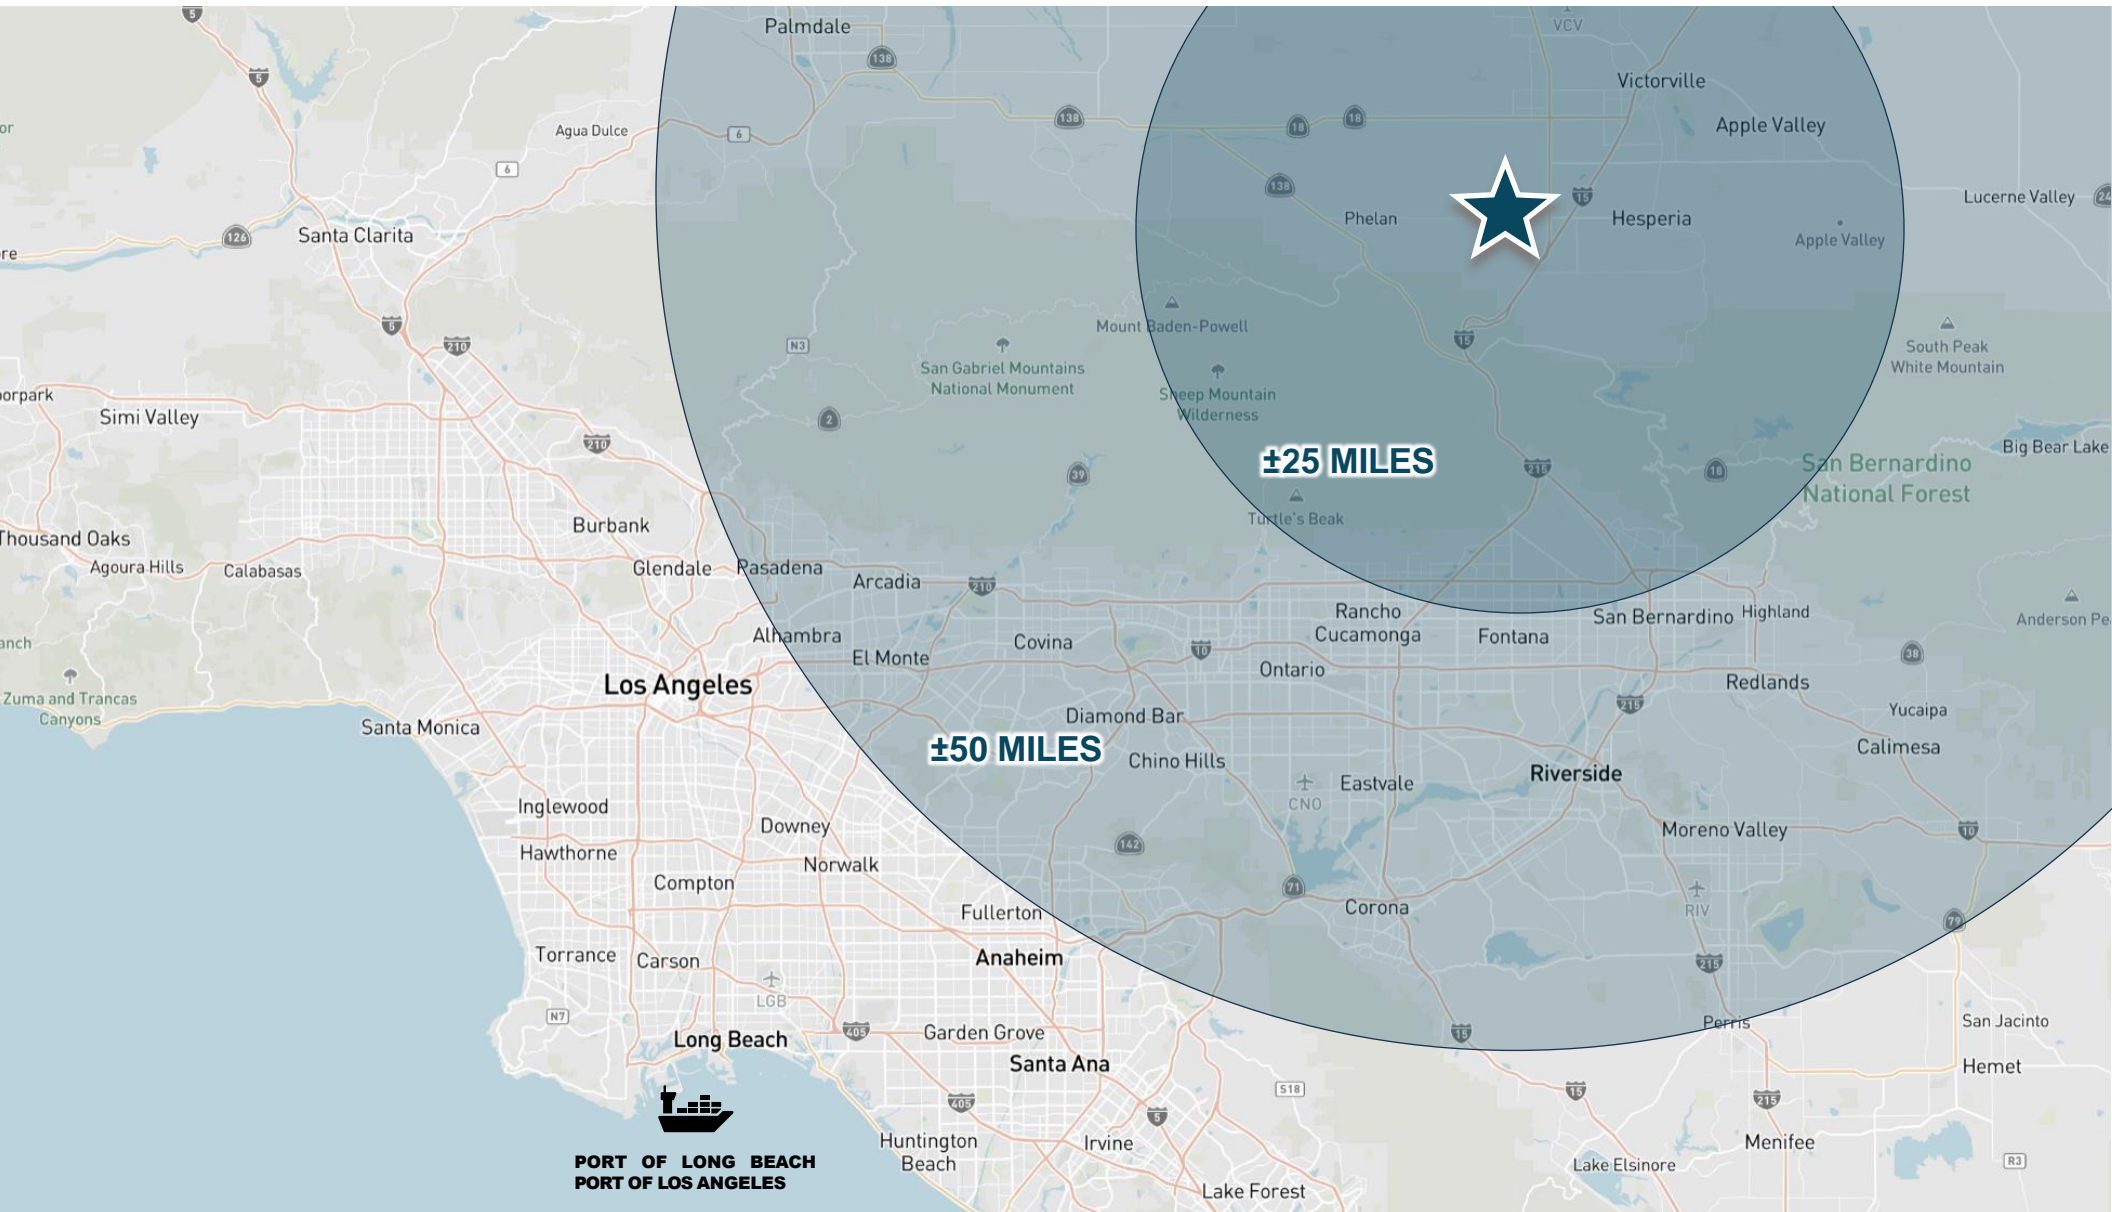

The City of Victorville is one of the municipalities that make up the High Desert region of the Inland Empire. Located in the Mojave Desert, at the high-point between Los Angeles and Las Vegas, Victorville is the leading city for both industry and retail in the High Desert region. Victorville is a growing, vibrant community that is home to approximately 137,000 residents and some of the area's largest employers. Estimates suggest that this figure more than doubles during business hours to accommodate the needs of more than 400,000 people who call the Victor Valley home. Victorville is the economic engine of the Victor Valley and the largest commercial center between San Bernardino and the Nevada border. Victorville draws consumers from well beyond the immediate area, including those traveling to Nevada and residents located in neighboring communities.

Victorville offers several advantages to other locations in the region, including a fully functioning airport, low utility costs and close proximity to all western markets. Victorville is the multi-modal transportation hub of Southern California - bringing ground, rail and air transportation together creating a pro-business, fast-track environment. As a result, an estimated 60% of all goods moving into and out of Southern California travel through Victorville.

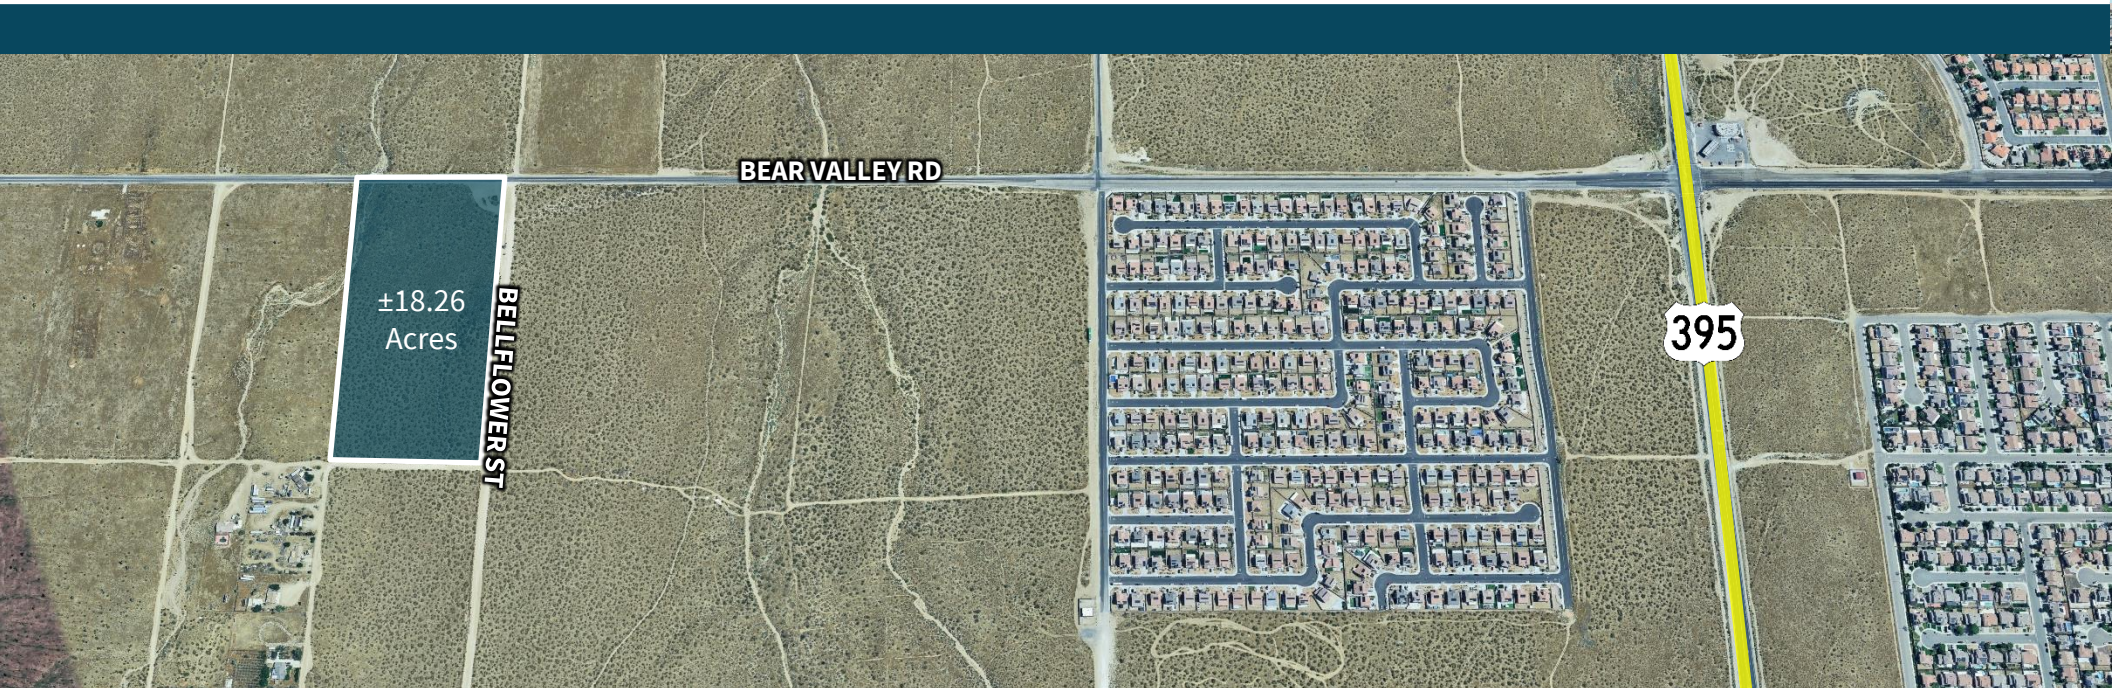

Victorville offers a strategic location with easy freeway access to I-15, US-395 and SR-18, between Los Angeles and Las Vegas; it is only 40 miles from I-10 and also I-40 as well as the entire Southern California freeway network system including SR-58, SR-60, I-215, I-210 and SR-138.
