ABOUT THE BUILDING -

The perfect location for your business

Adelaide Place Street is a building for those that respect history, appreciate architecture and design, want to execute on a vision, and make a statement with their retail space.

Built in 1959 by Central Guaranty Trust as their head office, no expense was spared in creating this stunning mid-century modern design. Adelaide Place was one of the first buildings constructed after Hurricane Hazel, going above and beyond during this early reactionary period delivering one of Canada's earliest boutique office buildings in Canada.

Adelaide Place is currently undergoing a number of renovations that are invested in restoring the original charm and character of this ideally located building. Dream takes a very long term view of our buildings – we are preparing this building for the next 100 years. We believe that great spaces are where great ideas are created.
