DEVELOPMENT OVERVIEW

The Central New York Logistics Center is the largest approved and shovel ready industrial development site in New York State and New England. It is strategically located in Frankfort, New York with direct access to I-90 and proximate to an outstanding labor market. Major past and planned industrial developments include the $48 billion Micron semiconductor manufacturing facility in Clay, NY as well as major distribution operations by Wal-Mart, Tractor Supply, Family Dollar, Orgill, and Wolfsped in Marcy. The property is located immediately adjacent to Tractor Supply's largest national distribution center, at 930,000 SF and will benefit from numerous state and county tax benefits and incentives.
