Meet Foundry43

Step into Foundry 43 and be transported into an urban canyon where light floods from above, illuminating a dramatic lobby. This Class A office building stands as a testament to adaptive reuse done right—a former 1943 foundry that once cast columns for the CW Silver Company now reimagined as the Granary District's premier workspace. Spread across two thoughtfully designed floors, this landmark property offers a rare opportunity: authentic character paired with contemporary amenities in Salt Lake City's most dynamic neighborhood.
