A BETTER RECEPTION A MORE ATTRACTIVE WAITING AREA

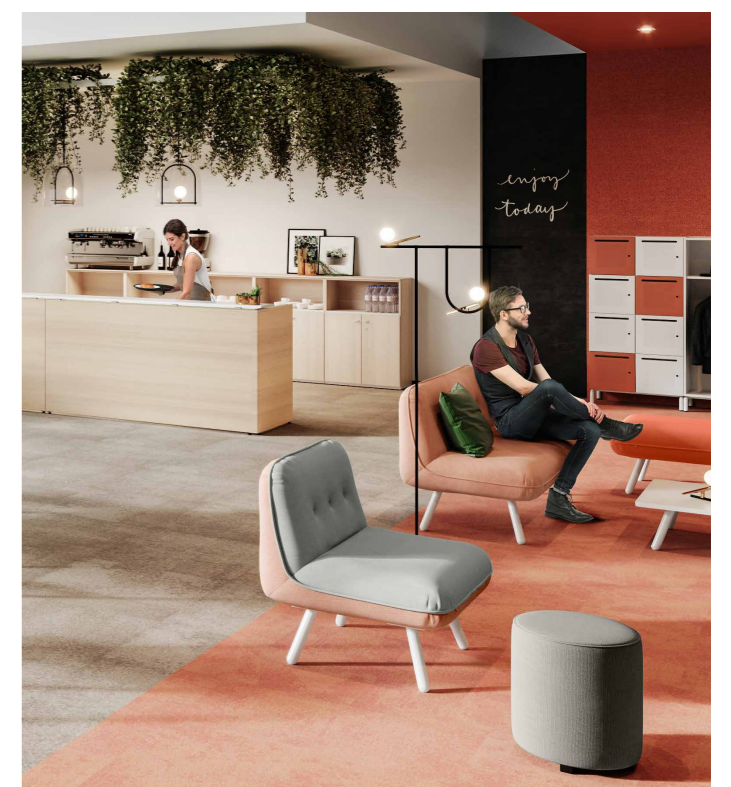

First impressions count

Our brain only takes a tenth of a second to form a judgement about a stranger. We decide in an instant whether we think the other person is likeable and can be trusted. And it doesn't just apply to people, but also to rooms. That's reason enough to design reception and waiting areas to be as inviting and welcoming as possible!

Visitors experience your company's character as soon as they step into the foyer.

What's your Corporate Identity like? Do you aim to appear open, flexible and modern? Or would you rather come across as opulent, status-conscious and traditional? We'll show you how skilful room design can create a good first impression with both employees and customers.

CUSTOMISED ROOM CONCEPTS FOR MODERN PEOPLE

Welcome to the workplace with urban character, designed on the basis of our PURE style collection. As a process companion with 95 years of experience, we analyse individual work cultures and use these as a basis for developing customised room concepts that are unique.

Maybe the NET.WORK.PLACE soft seating programme is just the thing for you? It's highly flexible thanks to its modular 80 scale: You can use it to furnish a wide range of areas for communication and relaxation, which can be harmoniously integrated into diverse room scenarios. The INSIDE.50 counter solution is almost equally versatile.

We invite you to explore over the following pages.

GUARANTEED TO BE TIMELESS: THE QUEST FOR COMFORT

These days, people can work just about anywhere. And relax. So it really doesn't matter how mobile your customers and staff are as they go about their jobs – a thoughtfully designed reception area makes for a pleasant arrival experience, quiet corners are inviting places to relax, and a co-working space provides a forum for ideas.

The NET.WORK.PLACE lounge chair encloses you like a cocoon – allowing privacy yet facilitating interaction. Our podiums have a workshop character, offering a sophisticated storage solution that's also ideal for agile meetings and presentations. Just like NET.WORK.PLACE, both furnishing solutions are created using traditional materials and timeless colours, based on our TIMELESS style collection.

WAITING, OR EXPERIENCING TIME CONSCIOUSLY

In our world, where time must always be used efficiently, hardly anyone enjoys waiting any more. And why is that? With an attractive and comfortably designed waiting area, you can invite visitors and guests to spend their free time doing something enjoyable – reading an inspirational book, a cup of coffee, a nice chat or a meditative experience of ... time.

The PUBLICA benches and chairs from König + Neurath with their clear-cut design and plenty of customisation potential offer comfort and aesthetic appeal in equal measure.

Whether waiting time is perceived as something enjoyable or not depends very much on the atmosphere. The large PUBLICA product family scores points for popularity thanks to its diversity, as well as plenty of sophisticated details.

INSPIRATION - PERFECT FOR EVERYDAY USE

The first impression is key when it comes to being likeable and inspiring trust. Factors that win favour in reception areas include colours, shapes, light and plants. This is where your brand image has most impact. So it can be a good idea to integrate some casual spaces alongside the more formal reception counters: the INSIDE.50 counter for instance can be complemented by a café, library or organically designed lounge areas – the result is a versatile multi-purpose space.

For example, LIFE.S Interaction invites social interaction. Our multifunctional solution for short meetings is available as a stand-up table with benches for communication and bistro areas.

ENCOURAGE INDIVIDUALITY, ENABLE AGILITY

These days, people can create their own lifestyle and their own persona, by drawing on an almost infinite selection of options. What influence does that have on their jobs? It should reflect their personality. A working environment fosters identification – and itself embraces change.

In fluid transitions between spaces and application concepts, areas for working, reception and waiting all merge into each other. And in the ideal case scenario this pays dividends for the brand and company!
