Wood creates a natural homely feel – not just at home

Wood is a prized natural product with a character all of its own. Colour and structure are different every time – each piece is unique. We are fascinated by its natural diversity and durability. That's why we only use veneers from sustainably-managed forests for our products. Crafting the hand-selected veneers is a challenging task for which the wood technicians must apply expertise in fine detail. The combination of skilled craftsmanship and state-of-the-art production technology is the perfect starting point for office furniture with true character. Wood looks good anywhere, bringing warmth into a room – be it the management office or a space in which the working style is open, creative and goal-driven. The thing is, you need more than a desk, chair and shelf to create a working environment that inspires.
