FROM LOS ANGELES TO BRISBANE

An Ocean of Time

44 DAYS | 10 COUNTRIES | 22 DESTINATIONS | 2 UNESCO SITES

A NEW ERA OF TRANQUILITY

TAIHOAE BAY, NUKU HIVA, MARQUESAS ISLANDS, FRENCH POLYNESIA

Begin your voyage of ocean discovery by leisurely sailing the Pacific westward from Los Angeles to Hawaii and the French Polynesian islands. Take your time as you visit heavenly destinations such as Honolulu, Mo'orea and Hilo, with late departures that allow for deeper exploration and a quieter pace of travel. We've scouted the region for only the most incredible destination experiences, including visits to a pearl farm, vanilla plantation, and historic wonders such as UNESCO site Marae Taputapuātea.

RAINBOW FALLS, HILO, HAWAII, USA

HILO, HAWAII (USA) / 14 January

The first port of call in this epic journey, the small and charming town of Hilo features a crescent-shaped bay, dramatic waterfalls, emerald rainforests and brightly coloured gardens rich with exotic tropical plants. A late departure means you'll have all the time you need to explore the distinctive character and natural beauty of this voyage's first look at Hawaii.

HAKAUI VALLEY, NUKU HIVA, FRENCH POLYNESIA

NUKU HIVA (FRENCH POLYNESIA) / 24 January

The largest of the French Polynesian Marquesas islands, Nuku Hiva was made famous by novelist Herman Melville, held captive here by the natives of this island in 1842. You, on the other hand, will be captivated by the isle's slow-paced nature, as you follow in Melville's footsteps to explore its intimate beaches and quiet inland wilderness.

TAPUTAPUATEA, RAIATEA, FRENCH POLYNESIA

RAIATEA (FRENCH POLYNESIA) / 28 January

The beating heart of the Society Islands, Raiatea is considered the cradle of Polynesian culture and was the starting point for early explorers who set off to bring their culture and traditions to islands across the Pacific. From calming and picturesque Teto'oroa Bay to the top of Mount Temehani and the lush valleys below, Raiatea is a wonder for all the senses.

Hawaiian Treasures

17 JANUARY 2027 – HONOLULU, HAWAII (USA)

To honour the ancient Polynesians who braved 4,000 kilometres of open ocean in canoes to settle here, you'll gather for a traditional ho'olaule'a as the sun sets over the island. You'll savour tropical beverages and fresh seafood baked in a traditional imu underground oven as you look up to the sky and toast the true meaning of Aloha!

DANCERS PERFORM TRADITIONAL HULA 'AU.ANA, HAWAII, USA / HAWAII TOURISM AUTHORITY (HTA) / NICHOLAS TOMASELLO

AGE OF THE ARCHIPELAGO

You'll continue to explore the Ocean of Time as you sail onwards to Bora Bora, the Cook Islands and Samoa, crossing the International Date Line as you do. This unique event, a must for any world cruiser, will be celebrated on board Silver Dawn with a dedicated event and ceremony. You'll enjoy a deeper look at the lifestyles and locals of these rarely-visited islands thanks to curated experiences and performances, with a visit to Pago Pago, the capital of American Samoa and an entirely new world cruise destination.

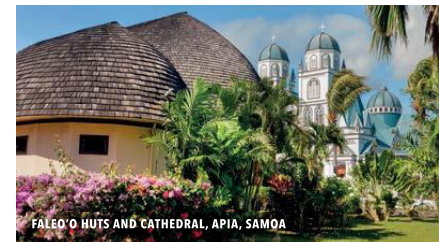

BORA BORA (FRENCH POLYNESIA) / 31 January

Essentially an extinct volcano surrounded by a lagoon and coral reef, this idyllic island's name in ancient Tahitian – Pora pora mai te pora – means "created by the gods". They must have loved art, as the bays of Bora Bora are painted in a kaleidoscope of colours: dark indigo for deeper waters, blue and green pastels closer to shore, and thousands of reds, blues and purples for its coral reefs.

RAROTONGA (COOK ISLANDS) / 2 February

As the beginning of the name of the island suggests, it is indeed rare. With no traffic or even traffic lights to speak of, Rarotonga is a paradise within a paradise, with the Cook Islands among the most beautiful and remote in the world. You'll explore lush vegetation, encounter unusual wildlife, and taste a series of local delicacies as you soak up the South Pacific sun across the island.

APIA (SAMOA) / 7 February

Samoa is located at the crossroads of the Pacific and, also, of history. A key island for ocean exploration throughout the ages, its capital Apia is nestled in a paradise of tranquil hills and beautiful seafronts, including Vaiala Beach and a stretch of bright coral reef, as traditional Samoan houses stand side by side with 19th-century churches and a gorgeous clock tower.

THE IDLE ISLES

Take a long look at some of the lesser-known gems of Melanesia, a sun-drenched region known for both its beauty and its biodiversity. Explore new destinations such as Nouméa, New Caledonia, a melting pot of a city that features local Kanak culture mixed with deep French influences. Glide among brilliantly coloured coral reefs as you make friends with sea turtles, right before taking a breather under the sun on several incredible beaches, including Vanuatu's one-of-a-kind Champagne Beach.

KADAVU ISLAND (FIJI) / 12 February

A new destination for our world cruise, Kadavu Island features the Great Astrolabe Reef, a pristine site teeming with vibrant marine life found nowhere else. Take your time and get to know the locals, including the colourful Kadavu parrot, before dining on a delicious traditional Fijian lovo: a flavourful meal cooked for an extra-long period of time in an underground oven next to a traditional home.

CHAMPAGNE BEACH (VANUATU) / 15 February

This world-famous stretch of coast is named after an awe-inspiring and distinctive feature: at the exact point its crystal-clear waters meet the shoreline, volcanic gases rise up through the soft sand to make it look like Champagne is bubbling up right at your feet. The surrounding bay and waters are just as exceptional, waiting to be explored at your leisure.

LIFOU (NEW CALEDONIA) / 17 February

One of the best kept secrets of the Pacific, Lifou is a recent addition to our World Cruise and is largely untouched and unspoiled. Each of its beaches offers something a bit different, from immaculate white sand and calm waters to magnificent wind-swept cliffs overlooking picturesque bays. A small island paradise worlds away from anything else.

The world of Silver Dawn

*Feel at home
on any ocean.*

As one of the smallest ships to operate a World Cruise, Silver Dawn calls at rarely-visited small ports and communities around the world that are not accessible by other ships or, in some cases, by other means. As we'll be sailing The Three Oceans for 149 days, you'll have all the time you need to discover and enjoy Silver Dawn's all-inclusive lifestyle. Intimate enough for our legendary onboard ambience and personalised service, the ship features eight separate dining venues, including a restaurant dedicated to Sea And Land Taste (S.A.L.T.), our immersive culinary programme that explores the recipes and traditions of your destination. Whet your curiosity and your appetite with fine dining across a wide range of cuisines and explore Silver Dawn's unparalleled array of bars and lounges, from exciting hotspots to cosy corners. Finally, indulge yourself in the sensual bliss of Otium, our pioneering wellness programme inspired by the ancient Roman art of comfort.

Welcome to The Three Oceans on board Silver Dawn.

Sea And Land Taste

MASTER CHEF CULINARY EXPERIENCE
Colombo, Sri Lanka

Uncover the secrets of Sri Lankan cuisine with an interactive introduction to its most characteristic recipes. Begin your full-day exploration with a visit to Colombo's colourful Pettah Bazar and a stop in breathtaking Independence Square before making your way to the Mount Lavinia Hotel where you'll be greeted by local star, Master Chef Dr. Publis Silva. He'll demo a series of signature dishes, curries and arrack cocktails before you get to sit back, relax and enjoy the results.

TRUFFLE EXPERIENCE AND GOURMET LUNCH
Bordeaux, France

Though the Aquitaine and Bordeaux regions of South West France are more famous for their royal history and exquisite wines, they're also known for their noble black truffle. Shaved, chopped and ground into exclusive meals by prestigious chefs throughout the ages, it truly is a spécialité délicateuse. You'll get to sample an extraordinary lunch featuring this sumptuous black ingredient in an entirely befitting setting, the Château Royal de Cazeneuve.

CHEF TRACEY JEFFREY'S KITCHEN
Belfast, Northern Ireland

Breathe deep and slow down as you reconnect with the lands of the north and their deep, earthy flavours in Tracey's Farmhouse Kitchen, an 18th-century thatched cottage featuring a uniquely intimate setting. You'll be welcomed with piping hot tea and coffee as well as Tracey's homemade Soda and Wheaten brown breads and handmade butters and jams.
