Tencel™, environmentally friendly fiber

Tencel™ fibers have high dry and wet strength, are soft and absorb moisture very well. Textiles made from it have a smooth and cool feel with a flowing drape, are wrinkle-resistant, softer and gentler than silk, and are easy to care for when washed.

ERWIN M.

Terry series Bonaire

Terry series made of absorbent walk terry. Due to the perfect combination of cotton and Tencel, a wood-based cellulose fiber, the terry is pleasantly soft on the skin and absorbs moisture well. In addition, the Tencel fiber has an antibacterial effect.

Protection against microbes due to Sanitized® hygiene function

Microbes are tiny organisms such as bacteria, many fungi, algae and viruses. If microbes settle on surfaces or textiles, their metabolic function can have a number of undesirable consequences. Material damage, stains and odors are just some of them.

You can easily prevent microbes from settling by using textiles with anti-bacterial agents. The Sanitized® hygiene function, a registered trademark and seal of quality, offers lasting protection against microbes and bacteria. For you, this means that products with Sanitized® hygiene function, such as the bed linen series St. Petersburg, can be used longer than other products and ensure optimum hygiene in your hotel room.

Protection against microbes thanks to Sanitized® hygiene function

Microbes are tiny organisms such as bacteria, many fungi, algae and viruses. If microbes settle on surfaces or textiles, their metabolic function can have a number of undesirable consequences. Material damage, stains and odors are just some of them.

You can easily prevent the colonization of microbes by relying on textiles with antibacterial agents. The Sanitized® hygiene function, a registered trademark and seal of quality, offers lasting protection against microbes and bacteria. For you, this means that products with Sanitized® hygiene function, such as the bedding series Auriga, can be used longer than other products.

ERWIN M.

Hotel mattress All in One

The quality mattress, produced in Germany, offers the perfect lying properties in all sleeping positions. Decide for yourself by turning the mattress whether you prefer to lie softer (firmness level up to 110 kg - medium H3) or firmer (firmness level up to 140 kg - firm H4). The 528 springs, at 100x200 cm (spring core size), provide a pressure-relieving 7-zone gel foam hypersoft topper on the soft side and a Vitacel comfort foam topper on the firm lying side. Comfortable entry and exit is guaranteed by the edge zone reinforcement with seat edge. The hybrid mattress ensures good ventilation and ideal temperature balance. It offers an outstanding support function and point elasticity. The cuddly, skin-friendly and elastic double jersey cover, quilted with puffy climate fiber, ensures a dry sleeping climate in every season. The cover fabric consists of 100% polyester, is removable, washable at 60°C, suitable for tumble-drying and harmless for allergy sufferers. The mattress is easy to turn thanks to four handles. The handy weight of 19 kg facilitates this additionally. The mattress is shipped by parcel service, rolled in a carton. More information at lusini.com
