

Business Leaders of Atlanta

There's a reason why some of the city's most high profile personalities trust The Jenny Doyle Group to help them buy and sell their homes: going the extra mile is just a normal part of their everyday routine.

"We want our clients to know that their best interests are always taken into account from start to finish," says Jenny. "I wake up every day and make a list of what I'd want done for me if I was buying or selling. And then I spend my day doing exactly that."

Celebrating $72M in total sales last year, Jenny says she and her team looked at their success and then turned their focus on giving back to the community. "We support a number of charities, and with every closing, a check is given to Blessings in a Backpack, a local charity that helps feed children in need," she says.

Known as the go-to experts in Luxury Real Estate, the Jenny Doyle team is the number one real estate team in north Atlanta, and because they partner with Sotheby's, they're connected to an international powerhouse with offices in more than 70 countries.

"We're local experts with a global reach," she says. "We stage every home. We provide high-end photography and videography. And we spend a lot of time showing off market homes, using our networks and relationships to keep ahead of the market shifts. Most of our homes are now selling in one to five days, and I think a big part of this success is our commitment to live in the details, no matter how big or small."
