

Introducing Compass Make Me Sell

Thinking about selling your home, but still on the fence?

If you're considering selling in the next few years, Compass Make Me Sell lets you quietly explore your ideal sale price and get feedback today.

Here's how it works:

We'll start with a casual conversation where you can discuss the sale price that would motivate you to consider moving.

Your home will be added to the Compass Make Me Sell category in our extensive Compass database.

This Compass Make Me Sell tag alerts other Compass agents that they can contact me.

If any Compass agents have qualified buyers interested in your area, they will reach out to me.

Your price, property details, and personal information will remain confidential until you decide otherwise. I'll connect with the buyer's agent to provide the property details and your preferred price.

After obtaining the best possible offer, we'll go over it together to determine if you're ready to proceed with selling.

In this low inventory market with high buyer demand, now could be the perfect time to sell your home — your dream price might be more within reach than you think.
