REALTOR
MONET BERGER GROUP

What inspired you to become a realtor, and how did you get started in the industry?

I always say real estate chose me before I ever officially chose it. I've always been obsessed with beautiful spaces, great design, and the way a home can completely shift someone's life. But more than that, I've always been drawn to people, their stories, and their next chapter. I got started the way most good things in life begin; with a little intuition and a lot of hustle. I took my love for architecture, neighborhoods, and connecting with people, and turned it into a business built on trust, relationships, and a very high standard of service.

What do you enjoy most about working in real estate?

What I enjoy most about real estate is the people. Truly. Every client, every home, every story is completely different, and I love slipping into that world with them understanding what they need, what they dream about, and what will actually make them feel "this is home". I also love the choreography of it all, the design, the strategy, the relationships, the negotiating, the little surprises that make clients feel taken care of. It's equal parts business, intuition, and heart, and that combination lights me up. Real estate, for me, is not about transactions. It's about people, trust, beauty, and new beginnings. And I feel incredibly lucky that I get to do it every day.

What do you love about the neighborhoods you work in?

What I love most about the neighborhoods I work in is that each one has its own heartbeat. Beverly Hills, Hancock Park, West Hollywood, Bel Air, they are all different, yet all so full of character, history, and personality. I love knowing the little things: where to get the best matcha, which streets glow at sunset, which blocks have the dreamiest architecture, and which sushi spot is the best. These neighborhoods aren't just places I work they are places I live in, breathe in, and genuinely adore. I am constantly on the hunt for every hidden gem. Guiding clients through them feels like introducing someone to a dear friend. Staying connected to the community and supporting all our local business is also part of it, ask me anything, I know where to send you!
