Welcome to majestic peninsula of Istria

THE BEAUTY OF ADRIATIC

Legend says that a long time ago, giants used to live in Istria, erecting cities out of giant stones on the tops of its hillocks.

That is why today, nearly every Istrian hill is topped by a medieval town that gets an average of 260 days of sunshine per year. Istria is the green-blue oasis of the northern Adriatic. A combination of fragrant pine forests, beautiful blue sea and red earth. Embark on a historic journey and uncover the monuments and structures dating back to the days of Rome and the Austrian rule, even some protected by UNESCO. Set off on an adventure across more than 500 kilometres of cycling paths through dense forests and meadows rich in asparagus and truffles. On its seaside, Istria offers 445 kilometres of coast to explore, and the sea just perfect for sailing. Enjoy the exquisite cuisine: truffles, *boškari*n cattle delicacies, world-renowned wines and olive oils.
