THE CHOICE IS YOURS.

They say Croatia is a small country, ideal for a great holiday. We should add that this country is perfect for business and other meetings as well. Thanks to its excellent geographical position in the center of Europe, its strong transport connections land, air and sea to not only neighboring countries but the rest of the world as well, Croatia is the region's business center. Anyone who has visited the country knows that each one of its regions is specific. Even though they differ in customs, gastronomy, dialect and architecture, they all have a common characteristic – you will be welcomed in the best possible way, anywhere you go in Croatia.

Zagreb is a typical Central European city, where anything you might need is readily available. The airport is close enough so your transfer will not take up too much of your time, yet far enough so it does not create additional traffic jams.
