

A woman with long blonde hair, seen from behind, stands on a balcony. She is wearing a long, white, sleeveless dress with a draped back. Her hands are resting on a modern metal railing. The balcony has a dark wooden floor and a small round table with a cup of coffee. In the background, a coastal town with a prominent church spire is visible across a body of water, under a soft, hazy sky at sunset or sunrise. Tall grasses and plants are in the foreground, partially obscuring the view.
