Are you an Environmentalist?

No matter who you are, we have the paper for you

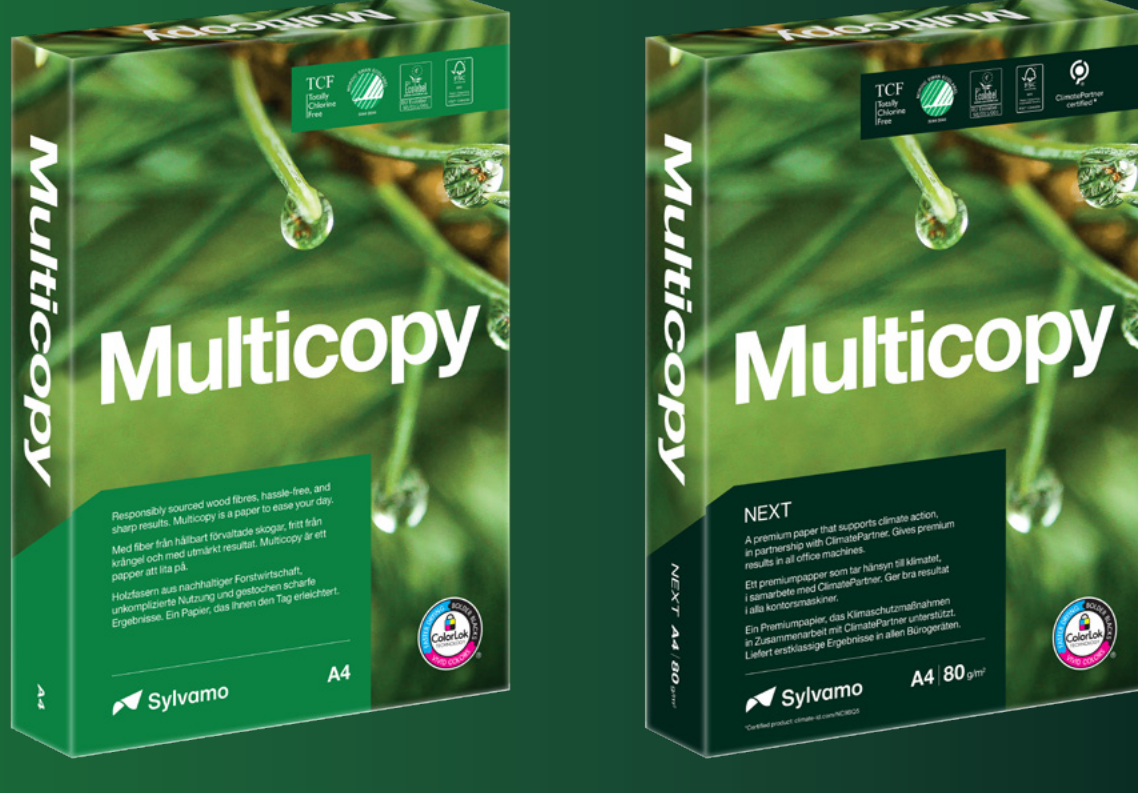

Rooted in Responsibility

Forest Day, celebrated 21st March, reminds us of the value of forests - but every day counts. Sustainability isn't a once-a-year conversation. It's a daily commitment.

At Multicopy, responsibility guides every decision, product and partnership we make. Produced at the Nymölla Mill, Sweden, Multicopy is rooted in a long Nordic tradition. Since 1977, we've manufactured our paper here, fully integrated into the local community - from partnering with operators who responsibly manage nearby forests, to providing district heating for local residents and businesses.

Meet Erik—a Sustainability Manager at a global organisation who ensures every purchasing decision aligns with clear environmental goals. He relies on transparent supply chains, credible certifications and measurable impact reductions to help his company meet its sustainability commitments.

The Perfect Partner

Multicopy is the perfect partner for the Environmentalist, combining reliable performance with responsible production and trusted certifications. And like the Environmentalist, Multicopy operates with accountability at every level. Multicopy is more than paper.

The Environmentalist's Checklist

True sustainability is built on evidence, not assumptions. Clear standards, credible certifications and transparent data make responsible choices easier—and more accountable. Our Environmentalist's Checklist for Sustainable Paper outlines exactly what to look for in a supplier, from responsibly managed forests and full traceability to reduced environmental impact and verified claims.

It also shows how Multicopy meets every criterion—through FSC® certification, strict adherence to Sylvamo's global fibre policy, short and transparent supply chains, and fully verified sourcing data.
