

Fulvic Iodine

THYROID & DETOX SUPPORT

NEW NAME

Same Formula

Fulvic Iodine provides support for the thyroid gland and whole body with a combination of iodine and iodide.

Research suggests certain parts of the body use these different forms of iodine preferentially. For example, iodide may be the ideal form for the thyroid gland, but iodine may be preferred for breast health. A supplement that provides both forms of iodine offers broader support.

The BioActive Carbon in the product helps protect and deliver the iodine in the needed form in the body.

At the same time, the BioActive Carbon binds and removes unwanted halogens, such as bromine and fluoride. These can interfere with iodine uptake, so removing them is essential for optimal iodine status.

Key Benefits

- Provides both the iodine and iodide forms of the mineral in the optimal ratios and amounts
- Travels protected in the body to deliver iodine in the needed form to specific body tissues
- Includes BioActive Carbon to bind and remove toxins that occupy iodine receptors
