

Van Buren County Resource Guide

A guide of services provided to residents of Van Buren County

United Way is working to advance the common good by focusing on three areas of concern:

BASIC NEEDS - Programs help meet a cross-section of basic needs, such as emergency services for those experiencing fires, natural disasters, domestic abuse, mental and physical health crises, and other disruptive events. Help is also provided for those needing food, utilities, shelter, legal assistance, and other basics, including tools for greater financial stability for the future.

CHILD DEVELOPMENT AND STRENGTHENING OF FAMILIES - Funded programs assist with child and elder care, provide expanded youth educational and recreational opportunities, and work with our county's at-risk families to ensure safe environments for all youngsters.

HEALTH AND WELL-BEING - Programs connect residents to low and no-cost health, mental health, dental, and prescription services; provide in-home care and nutritional help for the elderly; assist the disabled; and provide support for terminally ill residents and their bereaved families.

These are the building blocks for a good life here in Van Buren County. Our United Way allocates funds to many programs within each target area. Our goal is to create long-lasting changes in our local communities that prevent emergencies from happening.
