HOBBS STATE PARK - CONSERVATION AREA

As Arkansas’s largest state park, Hobbs State Park – Conservation Area offers diverse recreation opportunities while encouraging a spirit of adventure and the joy of discovery. Once a flat, limestone sea bed, the land has been uplifted and eroded by creeks, disappearing streams, springs, and seeps to form a multifaceted array of hills and hollows. Because of these numerous special features and a diversity of natural communities, HSP-CA has been labeled a “natural” park.

For several hundred years, Native Americans lived and hunted buffalo, deer, turkey, elk and bear in this area. After the Indian Removal Act of 1830, white settlers moved west from eastern states to benefit from this region’s animals, plants, streams, and rivers.

Today, over 12,000 acres of HSP-CA are jointly managed of hills and hollows. Because of these numerous special features and a diversity of natural communities, HSP-CA has been labeled a “natural” park.

All these features together in one park, in one corner of the fastest growing region of the state, form a mosaic of enjoyment. It is from these valuable and unique resources that the park’s mission is derived: To provide enriching educational, and recreational experiences in harmony with resource stewardship. Balancing the ever-increasing need for recreation, while protecting the ecosystem as a whole presents an ongoing challenge for park management.

Just 10 miles from Rogers and 21 miles from Eureka Springs, the park provides a special resource for many people; hikers, mountain bikers, equestrians, and hunters. Hobbs is the only Arkansas State Park that allows seasonal hunting. If nature exploration or bird watching is for you, then a peacefyl hike on our 35 miles of backcountry trails may provide adventure and discovery. Also available is a modern, outdoor gun shooting range with an environmentally-friendly bullet trap.

FACILITIES/RECREATION

Within the Park:

Visitor Center ◆ Opened in May 2009, this state-of-the-art facility is the park’s orientation point. Interactive exhibits and educational programming offer an Ozark experience. In 2010 the center was recognized with a Silver LEED Certification for sustainable design.

Picnicking ◆ Ten picnic tables are at the visitor center and five are at Van Winkle/Sinking Stream Trailhead.

Nature hikes ◆ On 5 separate trails: Ozark Plateau (Visitor Center) – 5 mile, Sinking Stream Trail – 5 mile, Shadix Hollow – 1.5 miles, Pigeon Roost – 8.4 miles, and Hidden Diversity Multi-Use Trail – 24 miles. Interpretive-guided tours available.

Historic trail ◆ The 5 mile Historic Van Winkle Trail is wheelchair accessible with a paved parking lot and tunnel under Hwy 12. Here, on interpretive panels with pictures, the story is told of an early industrial center. Self-guided or group interpreter – guided tours available.

Camping ◆ Five primitive campsites for backpackers are located on Pigeon Roost Trail. It is a 4-mile hike to these sites. Some overlook Beaver Lake.

Gun shooting range ◆ 25, 50, 75, 100 yd. target stands. Covered shooting bench with five stations, including one barrier-free station. Shotgun prohibited, paper targets only, and wooden clothes pins required.

Managed hunting seasons ◆ Deer, wild turkey, and small game. See state Game & Fish regulations. Special Hobbs permit required for some hunts.

Facilities/Recreation

Outside the Park:

Lodging-Cabins ◆ There are numerous motels and hotels nearby, but none within the park.

Food Service ◆ Deli-store type businesses operate near the park.

Camping ◆ Hundreds of class-A campsites are available at U.S. Army Corps of Engineers Beaver Lake as well as at two private campgrounds nearby.
