Product Details

Life is hectic, and sometimes you need a little help to push through a busy afternoon, whether you're up against a big project, a crucial meeting or taking care of business at home. While other energy supplements might hit you with a dose of low-grade caffeine, which can lead to jitters and a sudden crash, Modere GO takes a holistic, bio-hacking approach with clean energy derived from green tea and support ingredients of vitamins, minerals and nootropics, each scientifically selected so you can get more done and perform your best.

GO not only gives you an abundance of energy, it also improves alertness and promotes mental sharpness.

Modere GO also provides an advanced form of acetylcarnitine, an important amino acid that allows your body to effectively utilize the energy it has stored and helps support cognitive health. And it gives you tried-and-tested plant extracts like bacopa, ginkgo and shatavari, which support healthy cognitive function.

Skip the synthetic caffeine and artificial flavours you'll find in ordinary energy supplements and use Modere GO to support healthy cognitive function and achieve peak performance.
