Entasis

Parallel Dimensions are used to specify where the column begins to taper. These dimensions use length from the bottom of the column shaft to the point where the taper begins. This is necessary to determine how much a column can be shortened before the base begins to fit loosely. Filler and caulking may be used to fill the gap between the base and shaft if it is necessary to shorten the column beyond the parallel dimension.

Tips:

- ✓ When ordering a decorative capital, refer to page 9 and 11 (round) and page 18 (square) and order the appropriate base for the column.
- ✓ When ordering a decorative capital for round tapered columns, remove the "T" dimension and add height of decorative capital, this can lengthen or shorten the height of the column. You can find the "T" dimension in the products brochure.
- ✓ Decorative capitals for square PermaCast® Plus slide over the shaft and do not use a plug. These decorative capitals will not lengthen or shorten the height of the column.
- ✓ Ensure exact opening measurement prior to ordering column length.
- ✓ When installing a PermaCast® Plus column, ensure concentric loading of column, 100% of bottom must contact substrate, and 75% of top must contact soffit.
- ✓ When attaching hand rails and brackets to PermaCast® Plus columns, holes must be pre-drilled before applying screws.
- ✓ Use a screw with a wide thread pattern, i.e. deck screw, concrete screw, or hollow wall anchor.
- ✓ When ordering panel moulding for square PermaCast® Plus column, make sure to order enough for four sides of column.
- ✓ Plain Square PermaCast® Plus columns are not tapered and can be cut to any length.
- ✓ Do not paint PermaCast® Plus columns using dark colors.

SPECIAL NECK MOULD INSTRUCTIONS FOR SCAMOZZI, GREEK IONIC AND ROMAN IONIC CAPITALS FOR SQUARE PERMACAST® PLUS COLUMNS

OMITTING NECK MOULD – Because of the beaded rim at the base of these capitals, they may be installed without neck mould. The beaded edge serves the same purpose aesthetically as a neck mould. Standard installation instructions for capitals should be followed, omitting references to neck mould.

USING NECK MOULD –

If neck mould is to be used, it should be coped to fit around the scrolls of the capital. See appropriate illustration to the right.

ARCHITECTURAL WOOD COLUMNS (Custom)

All architectural wood columns are custom, made to order. Each wood column is formed of nominal 4" wide staves and interlocked together with a tongue and groove stave construction. The staves are glued with the highest quality Type 1, water-resistant glue and kept under pressure for a minimum of eighteen hours to ensure a proper adhesion. All architectural wood columns have a true architectural taper. The bottom one third of the shaft is straight and the top two thirds of the shaft is tapered. All diameters or widths are actual (not nominal) and all overall lengths are manufactured to your exact specified requirements.

It is recommended to use western red cedar or redwood for exterior applications. These species are naturally weather resistant and immune to decay and insect infestation. Pine or poplar may be used for interior use. We also offer a large selection of stain grade columns. Mahogany, maple, oak, and cherry are the most common species; however, other stain grade wood species, as well as exotic hardwoods, are also available. All columns used for exterior use have an interior asphaltum coating applied to the inside of the shaft. Columns that are to be painted are primed with two to three coats of an oil based primer after they are turned and then sanded in between each coat of primer to provide an excellent surface for your topcoat.

Columns may be plain or fluted with the flutes being either Doric or Ionic design. Since all architectural wood columns are custom, we can manufacture the shafts, caps, and bases to your exact specifications. Whether you are looking for an exact overall length or a specific diameter, we can manufacture exactly what you are looking for. A large selection of caps and bases are available to complement any design. Choose from Tuscan, Greek Doric, Roman Doric, or Attic to name a few. If you are looking for something more ornate, we have a complete line of decorative capitals to crown the top of your column while adding a stylish flourish. Columns may serve as a structural support or merely as a decorative accent. They are available in round or square.

Ordering or Quoting Requirements:

- 1.) Quantity required
- 2.) Design (Tuscan, Greek Doric, Roman Doric, or Attic)
- 3.) Plan type
- 4.) Bottom diameter/width and overall length
- 5.) Exterior or interior application
- 6.) Wood species
- 7.) Plain or fluted. If fluted, Ionic flute, or Doric flute?
- 8.) If columns are split for reassembly, specify shape and size of structural support
- 9.) Will columns match an existing column?

STOCK PAINT-GRADE WOOD COLUMNS

All paint-grade wood columns are round tapered, manufactured using a tongue and groove stave construction. All sizes and dimensions are nominal. Column shafts may be round plain or fluted. Columns may serve as a structural support or merely as a decorative accent.

Ordering or Quoting Requirements:

- 1.) Quantity required
- 2.) Plan type
- 3.) Bottom diameter and overall length
- 4.) Exterior or interior application
