SHOUTOUTS

- Caught 18 passes for San Francisco in 2016, including two touchdowns.
- Selected by his teammates as the 2015 Oakland Raiders recipient of the Ed Block Courage Award. This award honors those players who exemplify commitment to the principles of sportsmanship and courage.
- Chosen by his teammates as Raiders Nominee for the NFLPA Byron "Whizzer" White Award in 2014 for his community service.
- Notched career highs with 60 catches, 888 yards, and four touchdowns with the Raiders in 2013.
- Despite signing as an undrafted free agent in 2012 by Oakland, he started the season opener as a rookie on Monday Night Football against San Diego. He caught four passes, including his first career TD from Carson Palmer and a two-point conversion.
- Was a part of a Temple squad in 2011 that won their first bowl game since 1979.

FIRST-AND-10

After missing the entire 2017 season due to a toe injury suffered in the Bills second preseason game, veteran ROD STREATER is back in Buffalo in 2018. Originally signed as a rookie free agent by Oakland in 2012, Streater played his first four NFL seasons with the Raiders before signing with Kansas City as an unrestricted free agent in 2016. Before that season started though, the Temple University product was traded to San Francisco, where he played in all 16 games for the 49ers.

FAMILY FIRST

Streater is quick to credit his parents for where he is today in his career. Even though his mother, Darlene, passed away from breast cancer on October 14, 2014, during his 3rd NFL season with the Raiders, he still remembers how upbeat she was and tries to carry on her legacy. "She was so positive," Streater reflected. "She always had a positive vibe around her."

Streater's father, Kevin, "has always been there for me. He is my biggest supporter, especially for football. I had a few friends growing up that didn't have a father in their life and it made me appreciate it that much more."

PERSONAL

Married to Kristina. They own a Shitzu Pomeranian named Meko. He is the son of Kevin and the late Darlene Streater. He has an older brother, Kevin. Earned a degree in communications from Temple, becoming the first member of his family to graduate from college. Began playing football at the age of 10 for the Burlington Falcons as a running back.

ROD STREATER FOUNDATION

The Rod Streater Foundation was founded in 2014 to promote a healthy lifestyle through leadership, respect and positive attitudes. It is his "opportunity to reach out to children and adults who are overcoming cancer and to offer an inspirational message of 'Hope and Courage' in honor of my mother."

His main source of motivation as a player is to inspire youth and give back to his hometown. He often spends his spare time working with the American Cancer Society and with less fortunate children.
