FAITH, FAMILY, FOOTBALL

Peterman is the son of Dana and Chuck Peterman and he is the youngest of three boys. His oldest brother, Ryan, works for Citibank and midle brother, Aaron, is a youth minister.

The Peterman family is extremely tight-knit and grounded in their faith. Nathan's father, Chuck, started the Creekside Christian Church out of their Florida home on Mother's Day in 2002.

"Luckily, I think they just raised us so well that they told us, 'Hey, it's your choice,'" Nathan told the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette about his Christian faith. "Honestly, I was just completely blessed with two other brothers that paved the way for me and showed me it is cool to be a Christian."

3DQB

Peterman spent time during the 2018 offseason training with Dr. Tom House at 3DQB, who has previously worked with Tom Brady and Drew Brees. While there, he focused mainly on mechanics and preparing for OTAs in the spring.

PERSONAL

Born May 4, 1994 in Jacksonville, Florida, Nathan is the son of Dana and Chuck Peterman. He lives with his wife, Morgan, and they have a Yellow Lab named Copper.

DEATH VALLEY UPSET

Peterman put his name on the map on November 12, 2016 when he led the Pitt Panthers to a 43-42 upset win over Deshaun Watson and the #2 Clemson Tigers in Death Valley.

Peterman was named the Walter Camp National Offensive Player of the Week after throwing for a career-high 308 yards and five touchdowns. He was the first player with five passing touchdowns and no interceptions against an AP top-3 opponent since Matt Leinart did it for USC against Oklahoma in the 2004 National Championship.

MY CAUSE, MY CLEATS

Nathan participated in the NFL initiative "My Cause, My Cleats" during the Week 13 game against the New England Patriots by wearing cleats in support of the Juvenile Diabetes Research Foundation. Both of Nathan's older brothers have Type One Juvenile Diabetes.

"If I could tell those affected by my cause one message, it would be to hang in there, stay strong, and stay consistent," Peterman said in support of JDRF.
