NFL NOW!

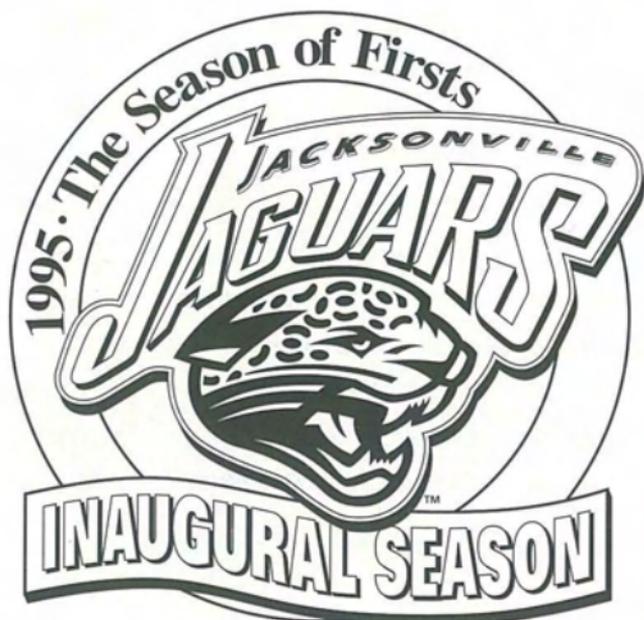

NFL Now! are true Jacksonville football heroes. The Jaguars and the Jacksonville community are grateful to those who were involved in the great 10-day blitz of 1993 which graphically illustrated the community's football passion. Had the community not responded as it did, the hopes for an NFL team in Jacksonville would have died.

With the Jacksonville media playing a supporting role, business leaders enthusiastically joined together to prove that Jacksonville deserved an NFL franchise. Gaining commitments daily from businesses and individuals, NFL Now! came together quickly with an organized campaign which the community embraced and supported.

NFL Now! — A Community Effort, was formed on August 23, 1993. Co-chaired by Florida Times-Union publisher Carl Cannon and Jacksonville Chamber of Commerce chairman Adam Herbert, the volunteer group of community leaders took the ball and ran with it, successfully completing a 10-day sale of club seats from August 25 to September 3, 1993. The goal was to sell 9,000 club seats before the NFL-imposed deadline of midnight on September 3. By 8:30 that evening a total of 9,737 tickets had been sold, a count that climbed to 10,112 once all orders were in.

The club seat sellout was a significant show of support by the Jacksonville community, and it would prove to be an important factor in the expansion race. NFL Commissioner Paul Tagliabue, in announcing Jacksonville's successful bid on November 30, 1993, cited Jacksonville's "passion for football" as one of the reasons for the city's selection by the NFL member clubs.

Jacksonville football fans and the business leaders who participated in NFL Now! were an essential part of Jacksonville's expansion victory.

JAGUARS FOUNDATION

MISSION STATEMENT

Believing that youth represent the community's future, the Jacksonville Jaguars Foundation is committed to serving the greater Jacksonville area through strategic financial, networking and volunteer support benefitting economically and socially disadvantaged youth and families. By building upon our city's strengths, we seek to realize the positive potential of our young people in need. By doing so, we aim to serve as a model to other sports franchises.

The Jacksonville Jaguars Foundation, Inc. was formed on September 14, 1994. On March 23, 1995 — almost six months before the Jaguars' first official game — the Foundation awarded $139,850 to eight Jacksonville-area agencies. The next series of grants will be announced in December.

The Foundation also began an incentive program called Honor Rows, through which seats to Jaguars home games in 1995 will be utilized as incentives for area at-risk youth.

FOUNDATION BOARD — Delores Barr Weaver (Chair/CEO), Lawrence J. DuBow (Treasurer), Elizabeth P. Petway, J. Wayne Weaver, and Gregory S. Gross, Ed.D. (Ex Officio)

COMMUNITY ADVISORY BOARD — Brian Davis, Esq., Circuit Judge, Family Law Division, Duval County; Elizabeth Means, R.N., Vice President, Community Relations and Education, University Medical Center; and Pam Paul, Liaison for Children's Initiatives, Office of the Mayor.

HONOR ROWS VOLUNTARY COMMITTEE — W. Radford Lovett II (Chair), Noah Henderson, Madeline Scales-Taylor, Matt Schellenberg, Albert Tharin and Terry Walton.

FOUNDATION STAFF — Gregory S. Gross, Ed.D (President), William Keator (Program Officer) and Marjorie Sabio (Administrative Assistant).

DELORES BARR

WEAVER

CHAIR / CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER,
JAGUARS FOUNDATION

Following a long-held and passionate vision, Mrs. Weaver is leading the charge to assist Jacksonville's at-risk youth through the formation of the Foundation. Over many years of volunteer and financial commitments to a broad range of charitable endeavors, Mrs. Weaver has embodied the spirit, compassion and insight that will make the Jaguars' philanthropic direction the model for other professional sports franchises.

Mrs. Weaver annually participates in home construction through Habijax (the Jacksonville affiliate of Habitat for Humanity), and she was recently involved in shaping and supporting an outreach program coordinated by the Jacksonville Ronald McDonald House. In addition, she is actively involved as a Governor on the Board of Boston's Dana-Farber Cancer Institute. She was instrumental in establishing the Dana-Farber Marathon Challenge, in which runners participate in the Boston Marathon and raise funds toward cancer research. That effort supports novel medical research through the Claudia Adams Barr Program in Innovative Basic Research, named in honor of Mrs. Weaver's mother. In 1995, more than $900,000 was raised through the Marathon Challenge.

GREGORY

PRESIDENT,
JAGUARS FOUNDATION

Dr. Gross became President of the Jaguars Foundation after serving as a consultant to the Weavers on charitable giving. A native of Chicago, he went on to receive a B.A. from the University of Wisconsin, where he received four letters in soccer. He then coordinated a National Science Foundation project at Yale University and co-founded and directed an international education organization in Washington D.C. He received his master's degree at Harvard, and later consulted to Digital Equipment Corporation. After working for several years in the Boston medical complex, he returned to complete his Doctorate at the Harvard Graduate School of Education while consulting in non-profit management. Having received a research award from the Aspen Institute, he wrote a dissertation on how grantmaking foundations served the disadvantaged. Dr. Gross came to Jacksonville with his wife, Wendy, and daughter, Jamie.

WAYNE

WEAVER

CHAIRMAN / CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER

On March 18, 1993, J. Wayne Weaver was introduced as the Managing General Partner of Touchdown Jacksonville!, Ltd.

Fewer than nine months later, the Jacksonville Jaguars were born.

In winning the NFL's 30th franchise on November 30, 1993, Weaver led Jacksonville to what has been called one of the greatest upsets in sports history and the fulfillment of Jacksonville's more than 15-year dream of an NFL franchise. NFL owners approved of Jacksonville's bid on the first ballot by an overwhelming vote of 26-2, five more affirmative votes than were necessary.

Weaver is one of the nation's most successful entrepreneurs, and he brings his enthusiasm and business acumen to Jacksonville to build the Jaguars into one of the most successful NFL franchises.

So when NFL commissioner Paul Tagliabue announced that Jacksonville had been awarded the franchise, Weaver knew that the hard part was over ... and that the hardest part — turning the Jaguars from an expansion team into a Super Bowl contender — was just beginning.

Weaver has been actively involved in the Jaguars' preparations for the inaugural season. He also serves as a member of the NFL Properties Executive Committee.

He is Chairman, Chief Executive Officer and majority owner of Shoe Carnival, Inc., one of the nation's fastest-growing shoe retailers based in Evansville, Ind. Shoe Carnival, Inc., a retail family shoe company with $225 million in annual revenue, had its initial public stock offering in March 1993. Weaver has nurtured Shoe Carnival from modest beginnings of four stores in 1985 to a current portfolio of 91 stores.

Weaver became the Majority Owner, Chairman and Chief Executive of LC Footwear, L.L.C. with the acquisition of this company in July 1995 from Liz Claiborne, Inc. LC Footwear is a wholesale distributor to upscale department stores across the country. Weaver has also announced plans to open Liz Claiborne retail shoe stores in better malls nationwide. The company will be headquartered in Jacksonville.

Previously, Weaver was co-owner, President and Chief Executive Officer of Nine West Group, Inc., the leading designer and marketer of women's footwear, from 1978 to its initial public offering in February 1993. Nine West is credited with revolutionizing the women's shoe market, as sales grew under Weaver's leadership from $9 million in 1978 to more than $550 million in 1993.

Throughout his business career, Weaver has maintained a commitment to philanthropic endeavors. With the award of the Jaguars franchise, Wayne and his wife Delores have focused their charitable efforts through the Weaver Family Foundation and the Jacksonville Jaguars Foundation, in addition to their long-standing commitment to the Dana-Farber Cancer Institute at Harvard Medical School. Wayne and Delores serve on the Institute's Board of Directors, and through the Claudia Adams Barr Program, founded in memory of Delores' mother, they have raised more than $8 million for Dana-Farber.

Weaver is past chairman of the Fashion Footwear Association of New York. He has also been active as Director and Executive Committee member of the Two/Ten International Footwear Foundation and currently serves as Director of First Union National Bank of Florida.

Weaver was born on January 1, 1935 in Columbus, Ga. A high-school graduate, he rose through the ranks of Brown Group, Inc., a major St. Louis-based shoe company. After serving as Senior Vice President, he departed in 1978 to become President and CEO of Nine West.

Wayne and Delores have been married for 40 years and have a son, Bradley, and a daughter, Leigh, and a five-year-old granddaughter. The Weavers are building a home in Jacksonville and also maintain residences in Amelia Island Plantation; Darien, Conn.; and Beaver Creek, Colo. An avid sportsman and skier, Weaver ran the Boston Marathon in 1991 to support the Dana-Farber Cancer Institute.

DAVID

OPERATING OFFICER

"David is a big reason why Jacksonville has a football team," says Jaguars owner Wayne Weaver. "I get a lot of the credit because I was out front, but he's a major reason why Jacksonville is now an NFL city."

Since November 30, 1993, Weaver and Seldin have had a new challenge — building the Jaguars into the outstanding franchise that the fans of Jacksonville deserve. As President and Chief Operating Officer of the Jaguars, David Seldin oversees the day-to-day operation of the entire franchise, as well as the construction of Jacksonville's new stadium.

Building an exceptional staff was the first priority. The Jaguars grew in the first year from six people working out of a conference room to a driven, 100-person team in the second year working out of a stunning new team complex inside the stadium. In every area, the Jaguars team is comprised of hand-picked rising stars with one common goal — to be a part of something special, the Jacksonville Jaguars.

Seldin has also been the point man responsible for overseeing the building of the new stadium, a state-of-the-art marvel that will be the envy of teams and fans all around the nation. In 20 months, the people of Jacksonville have seen the Gator Bowl torn down and replaced by a beautiful spectacle alongside the St. Johns River. Seldin has worked closely with the stadium's architects, designers, contractors and construction team in beating the tight deadline to have the stadium ready for the first game on August 18, 1995.

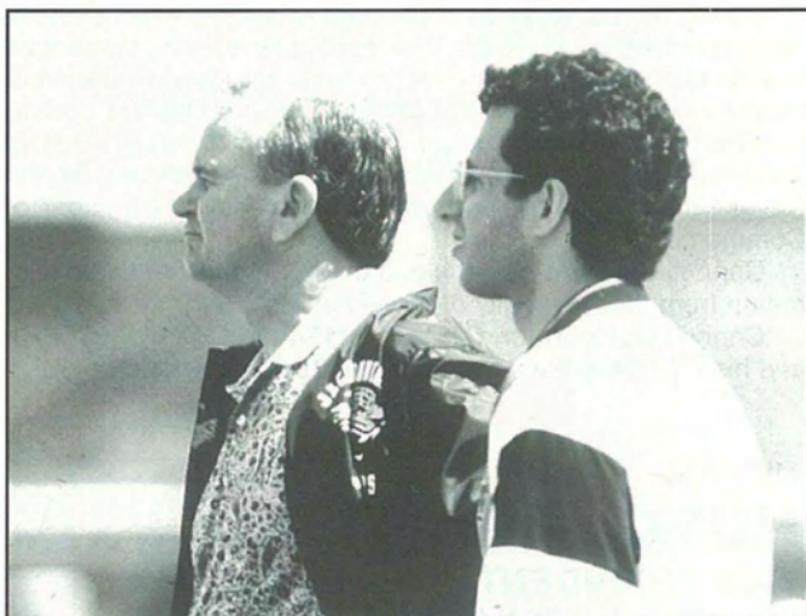

Seldin also oversees the team's administration. Through his insight, the Jaguars are pioneering the concept of managing the entire operation in-house, including broadcasting, special events and publications.

Seldin joined Jacksonville's football efforts on October 24, 1991 when Tom Petway appointed him President of Touchdown Jacksonville!, Ltd. Seldin had been working with Touchdown Jacksonville! as a consultant when Petway and then-partner Earl Hadlow convinced him to relocate to Jacksonville and direct the city's expansion race.

Before joining Touchdown Jacksonville!, Seldin spent five years with the Pritzker Organization in Chicago. Previously he had been a manager in the Chicago office of the Boston Consulting Group.

Seldin is a graduate of the Wharton School of Business at the University of Pennsylvania. He graduated summa cum laude in 1982 with a bachelor of science degree in economics. In 1983 Seldin received his MBA in finance and marketing from the University of Chicago.

Born October 24, 1961 in Henderson, Nev., Seldin and his wife Judy live in Jacksonville with their three daughters - Abigail, Hannah and Sarah. An avid, but slow runner, Seldin ran the 1992 Boston Marathon to support the Dana-Farber Cancer Institute.

DAN

SENIOR VICE PRESIDENT, MARKETING

Dan Connell joined the Jaguars on March 16, 1994, but his involvement with the team predated his hiring. As Executive Vice President of First Union Bank of Jacksonville, Connell was instrumental in rallying the Jacksonville business community in support of the city's expansion bid. His creativity and marketing strategies were instrumental in making possible Jacksonville's club seat drive in which NFL NOW! sold more than 10,000 premium seats in just 10 days, a $75 million show of community support that the NFL expansion committee was not able to overlook.

As the Jaguars' Senior Vice President of Marketing, Connell oversees the team's sponsorships, communications, special events, broadcasting and ticket operations.

During his 25 years as a resident of Jacksonville, Connell has been deeply involved in the community, serving on various boards and in numerous roles at the Chamber of Commerce. He presently serves on the University of North Florida Foundation Board, as well as the board of directors for The Bolles School and First Union. Connell also serves with the Jacksonville Sports Development Authority and on the Board of the Chamber of Commerce.

Connell received a bachelor's degree in business administration from the University of Florida in 1970.

Connell was born on October 7, 1948 in Orlando, Fla. He and his wife Mary have two sons, Andrew and Russell.

MICHAEL

VICE PRESIDENT, FOOTBALL OPERATIONS

Michael Huyghue, considered one the brightest young executives in professional sports, was one of the first people Wayne Weaver and David Seldin sought after gaining the franchise in November 1993. Huyghue (pronounced "hewg") joined the Jaguars in March 1994, coming from the Detroit Lions, where he served as Vice President of Administration and General Counsel. In Detroit, Huyghue oversaw the day-to-day administrative responsibilities, negotiated player contracts and was instrumental in guiding the Lions to the NFC Central Division championship that season.

Huyghue directs all football operations for the Jaguars with primary responsibility for negotiating player contracts and administering the salary cap, as well as overall administration and financial responsibility for the team.

In 1992 Huyghue served as Vice President/Administration and General Counsel for the World League. During the 1991 season he served as General Manager for the Birmingham Fire, where he directed the Fire to the North American West Division Championship.

From 1987 to '90, Huyghue was Labor Relations Counsel to the NFL's Management Council, where he advised the 28 member clubs on interpretation and enforcement of Collective Bargaining Agreement provisions between the League and the NFL Players Association. During his first year with the Management Council, he was also an integral member of the Council's staff which directed member clubs in the signing of replacement players during the 1987 players' strike. Rounding out his labor experience, Huyghue also served briefly in 1987 in the legal department of the NFL Players' Association based in Washington, D.C.

Huyghue earned a bachelor's degree in communication arts from Cornell University, where he excelled in baseball and was a three-year starter at wide receiver. He went on to earn a juris doctor degree from the University of Michigan Law School in 1982 and is a member of the State Bar in New York, New Jersey, and Michigan. Huyghue is very active in the Jacksonville community and is a board member of the Urban League.

Huyghue was born on September 21, 1961, in Windsor, Conn. He and his wife, Kimberly, whom he met in law school, have a daughter, Kristen Nicole, and are expecting their second child in October.

PAUL

GENERAL COUNSEL

Paul Vance was named General Counsel for the Jaguars on July 18, 1994 following 21 years with the Stamford, Connecticut, law firm of Cummings & Lockwood. While he was with Cummings & Lockwood, he represented Wayne Weaver and Touchdown Jacksonville! during the expansion process.

Vance, 47, is also affiliated with the Jacksonville office of Foley & Lardner, which serves as the primary law firm of the Jaguars.

As General Counsel for the team, Vance is responsible for handling and consulting on all legal matters, including business contracts, licensing and litigation.

In his 21 years with Cummings & Lockwood, Vance emphasized corporate and transactional work and was elected to partnership in 1981. He joined Cummings & Lockwood after completing his law studies at Columbia University.

Vance did his undergraduate studies at the University of Rochester, where he received a bachelor's degree in economics in 1969. While at Rochester he played varsity baseball and was captain of the varsity basketball team. He received his Juris Doctor degree in 1973 from Columbia, where he was a Harlan Fiske Stone Scholar.

Vance was born November 12, 1947 in Buffalo, N.Y. He and his wife Jane live in Jacksonville. They have four children: daughters Kerry and Jamie and sons Jordan and Derek.

PETER

VICE PRESIDENT, BROADCASTING AND CREATIVE SERVICES

Peter Scheurmier was named Vice President of Broadcasting and Creative Services for the Jaguars on June 4, 1994. Previously a consultant for Touchdown Jacksonville!, Scheurmier has a broad background in the broadcasting and media industries.

Scheurmier's responsibilities include overseeing the Jaguars' in-house audio visual production department, the development and implementation of the team's television and radio broadcast operations, and creative services support for the team's marketing department.

Scheurmier began his career in broadcasting in 1966 with CKLW AM/FM/TV in Windsor/Detroit, where he served in various creative and management capacities before moving to Los Angeles in 1977 to join ABC Radio as Director of Creative Services of the FM Division. In 1978 he founded and operated Radio Marketing Concepts, Inc., a company specializing in marketing radio stations. In 1983 he went into radio station ownership when he formed Polo Broadcasting Corporation. Following the sale of his radio stations he served as Vice President/COO of U.S.P. Automotive Advertising, a national advertising agency based in Los Angeles from 1985 to '88.

In 1988 Scheurmier reactivated Radio Marketing Concepts and moved the company to Seattle, changing the name in 1989 to 21st Century Media Corporation to reflect the addition of TV, cable TV, newspaper and research clients. The company had clients in most major markets in the U.S. and Canada.

Scheurmier was born July 24, 1947 in Sussex, England and moved to North America in 1966. He received a bachelor's degree in 1969 and a master's degree in business in 1971, both from the University of Michigan. He moved to Jacksonville from Seattle with his wife, Karen, and son, Christopher. He also has a stepdaughter, Robyn.

JUDY

VICE PRESIDENT, TICKET OPERATIONS

As Vice President of Ticket Operations for the Jaguars, Judy Seldin is responsible for overseeing all ticket-holder matters and all ticketing issues, including executive suites, club seats, season tickets and group sales.

Seldin's planning helped enable Jaguars fans to begin purchasing season tickets within hours of the expansion announcement on November 30, 1993. She and her ticketing staff successfully coordinated and implemented the unprecedented one-month season ticket sellout that would follow.

Seldin worked for Touchdown Jacksonville! as a volunteer during the initial club seat drive. As vice president of startup operations, she led the team's ticket drive as well as managing vendors and staff for such startup issues as computers and creative services.

Prior to moving to Jacksonville, Seldin spent six years working for the international management consulting firm of Booz, Allen & Hamilton and two years at The Boston Consulting Group.

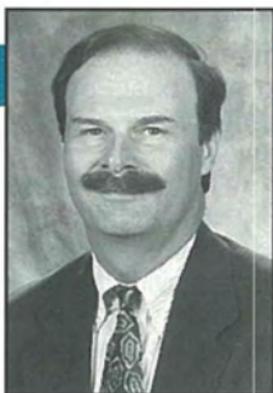

Seldin attended the University of Pennsylvania, where she was a Benjamin Franklin Scholar and was graduated magna cum laude in 1982 with degrees in economics and Soviet studies. In 1986 she received her master of management degree with a marketing major from Northwestern University, where she was an Austin Scholar and a United Airlines Fellow.

Seldin was born on June 7, 1961 in Los Angeles. She and her husband David have three daughters, Abigail, Hannah and Sarah.

JOHN

EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR, ADMINISTRATION

John Jones was appointed Executive Director of Administration for the Jaguars on March 21, 1994. Jones brought with him more than seven years of NFL experience as an administrator at the NFL Management Council.

Jones' responsibilities include assisting Michael Huyghue in negotiating player contracts and planning, implementing and administering the club's salary cap, including compliance with the 1993 Collective Bargaining Agreement. He is also responsible for general administration of the club, including the 1995 training camp at Wisconsin-Stevens Point, as well as development of computer technology in both the football and business operations of the franchise. He also serves on the steering committee of NFL Player Programs and is responsible for Jacksonville University and the University of North Florida becoming the continuing education partners of the Jaguars as members of the NFL University Consortium.

Jones served as a member of the Management Council negotiating team that achieved a global settlement of player anti-trust lawsuits against the NFL in January 1993 and the new Collective Bargaining Agreement four months later.

As Director of Labor Administration for the Management Council, Jones was responsible for assisting NFL clubs in daily operations under the Collective Bargaining Agreement and salary cap. One of the architects of the salary cap computer software now used by all clubs, Jones trained executives from every club in the League in using the new technology to manage the cap.

Jones joined the Management Council in 1987 as Director of Public Relations following a career at The Times-Picayune in his native New Orleans. He was recognized by the Louisiana Sports Writers Association with a dozen first-place awards for writing, editing and publication design.

Jones received a degree in journalism from Loyola University in 1973 and attended graduate journalism school at the University of Wisconsin. He was an instructor of journalism at Loyola from 1976 to '78.

Jones was born on February 6, 1952 in New Orleans. He and wife, Cynthia, have a daughter, Sarah, and a son, Blake.

DAN

EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR, COMMUNICATIONS

Dan Edwards was named Executive Director of Communications for the Jaguars on May 4, 1994. Edwards, formerly the public relations director for the Pittsburgh Steelers, brought to the Jaguars 10 years of National Football League experience working with the Pittsburgh Steelers, Miami Dolphins and the League office.

Now in his 12th season in the NFL, Edwards' primary responsibilities with the Jaguars encompass public relations, community relations and all team publications.

After receiving a scholarship from NFL Charities and serving as a public relations intern in the NFL's New York office in 1984, Edwards spent the 1984 football season working in publicity for the Miami Dolphins, who played in Super Bowl XIX that year. In 1985 Edwards joined the Steelers as assistant public relations director, and in January 1987 he was named public relations director.

In 1991, the Steelers' public relations department received the coveted Pete Rozelle Award, which is presented annually by the Pro Football Writers of America to the outstanding NFL public relations staff. Edwards has also worked for the NFL staff at nine of the last 10 Super Bowls in addition to the 1990 Pro Bowl.

Prior to entering the NFL, Edwards worked in professional baseball, spending one season as an administrative assistant with the Eugene Emeralds, a single-A affiliate of the Cincinnati Reds. Edwards received his undergraduate degree in business administration/management from the University of Oregon in 1981 and a master's degree in sports administration from Ohio University in 1984.

He was born January 15, 1959 in Denver, and he grew up in the Washington, D.C. area. He and his wife Tricia have three children: Christian, Danielle, and Preston.

DAVID

DIRECTOR, FINANCE

Since joining the Jaguars on June 1, 1994, David Blasic has taken responsibility for team financial operations as Director of Finance. He came to the Jaguars after serving as director of budgeting and analysis for the National Football League.

TOM

HEAD COACH

In the 18 months leading to his first game as head coach of the Jacksonville Jaguars, Tom Coughlin has spent his time scouting and acquiring players, assembling a coaching staff, signing free agents, drafting rookies, conducting practices and developing a playbook.

Coughlin, who was named head coach of the Jaguars on February 21, 1994 leads the NFL's newest franchise into the AFC Central Division race.

A veteran of 25 years in the coaching profession, Coughlin was previously a college head coach for seven seasons and an NFL assistant coach for seven.

He spent 1984 and 1985 as the wide receivers coach for the Philadelphia Eagles, and he was with the Green Bay Packers in 1986 and 1987 as the receivers coach. He served with the New York Giants from 1988 to '90 as the receivers coach, contributing to the Super Bowl XXV victory over Buffalo in his last season with the Giants. In 1993, Coughlin was offered the opportunity to return to the Giants as head coach, but he declined the job so he could continue building the Boston College football program.

Coughlin's arrival in Jacksonville followed three seasons (1991-93) as head coach at Boston College, where he turned a struggling football program into a Top 20 team. Posting a 21-13-1 record in three seasons, Coughlin capped his Boston College tenure with a 9-3 record in 1993 which included eight consecutive wins, a 41-39 defeat of top-ranked Notre Dame and a victory over Virginia in the Carquest Bowl. His last Boston College team was ranked 13th in the Associated Press poll and 12th in the USA Today/CNN coaches poll, despite beginning the season with an 0-2 start.

He led Boston College to an 8-2-1 record in 1992, including a Hall of Fame Bowl berth, after posting a 4-7 mark in his first season.

Coughlin began his coaching career in 1969 as a graduate assistant at Syracuse, his alma mater. The next season he began a four-year stint at Rochester Institute of Technology, where he served as head coach from 1970 to '73. Coughlin returned to Syracuse under Frank Maloney in 1974 and held the position of offensive coordinator from 1977 to '80, directing an offense that led the Orangemen to a berth and victory in the 1979 Independence Bowl, Syracuse's first postseason appearance in 13 years.

In 1981 Coughlin went to Boston College for the first time, as offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach under Jack Bicknell. He helped the Eagles win their first bowl bid in 40 years while coaching Doug Flutie, the 1984 Heisman Trophy winner. In 1983, Coughlin's last season as a Boston College assistant coach, the team earned the Lambert-Meadowlands Trophy as Eastern Champion, the first won by the Eagles since 1942.

Coughlin's playing career began as a standout scholastic star at Waterloo (N.Y.) Central High School in his hometown. He attended Syracuse University, where he was a three-year letterman for legendary coach Ben Schwartzwalder from 1965 to '67 and served as team captain in 1967. A wingback for the Orangemen, Coughlin played alongside All-America backs Larry Csonka and Floyd Little. As a senior in 1967, he broke the Syracuse single-season pass receiving record, which had stood since the 1950s, with 26 receptions for 257 yards and two touchdowns. An excellent student, he also won Syracuse's Orange Key Award that year as the university's outstanding scholar athlete. He graduated in 1968 with a bachelor's degree in education, and in 1969 he received his master's degree in education.

Coughlin was born August 31, 1946 in Waterloo, New York. He and his wife, Judy, have two daughters, Keli and Katie, and two sons, Tim and Brian.

JOE

ASSISTANT SPECIAL TEAMS COACH

Joe Baker was named assistant special teams coach on February 25, 1995. Baker, 25, had served as the Jaguars' manager of football operations since June 1994. He works under special teams coordinator Larry Pasquale, in addition to serving as administrative assistant to head coach Tom Coughlin.

A wide receiver at Princeton, Baker was on the school's Ivy League champion team in 1989. He has worked in coaching and administrative positions for the last four years. In 1991 Baker was the player personnel coordinator for the World League's Birmingham Fire.

Baker also served as a consultant and scout for the World League until joining the coaching staff at Birmingham's Samford University in January 1993. While at Samford he coached running backs and wide receivers in addition to his duties in recruiting.

Baker was born June 29, 1969 in Glen Ridge, N.J. and raised in Hamilton, N.Y. He graduated from Princeton in 1991 with a degree in history. Baker is single and lives in Jacksonville.

PETE

CARMICHAEL

WIDE RECEIVERS COACH

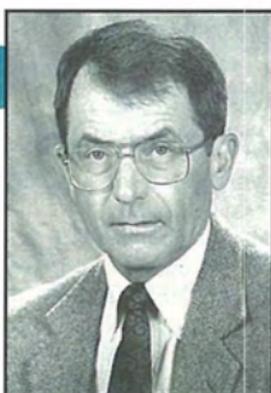

Pete Carmichael joined the Jaguars on March 3, 1994 after 13 consecutive seasons at Boston College, the last three as wide receivers coach under Tom Coughlin. Carmichael, 54, is in his 31st year in coaching.

Carmichael began his coaching career in 1965 at Virginia Military Institute, followed by stints at New Hampshire (1967), Columbia (1974-77) and on Joe Yukica's Boston College staff (1968-72).

In 1973 Carmichael was named head coach at Trenton State College, and from 1977 to '80 he was head coach at the Merchant Marine Academy. In 1981 he returned to Boston College to begin a 10-year stint as defensive backs coach under Jack Bicknell. When Coughlin took over the Boston College program in 1991 he retained Carmichael to coach the team's wide receivers.

Carmichael played one year as a quarterback at Dayton (1961) before transferring to Montclair State College, where he continued his playing career. He graduated from Montclair State in 1964 with a bachelor's degree in health and physical education.

Carmichael and his wife, Elaine, have two daughters, Layni and Kathleen, and a son, Pete. Carmichael was born March 4, 1941 in Plainfield, New Jersey.

RANDY

SECONDARY COACH

Randy Edsall joined Tom Coughlin's Jaguars staff on March 3, 1994. Now in his 16th year in coaching, Edsall was an assistant to Coughlin at Boston College for three seasons.

A former Syracuse quarterback, Edsall began his coaching career at his alma mater. He served as a graduate assistant coach at Syracuse from 1980 to '82, and in 1983 was named to Dick MacPherson's fulltime staff as running backs coach. He coached running backs in 1983-84 and 1986, and served as tight ends coach in 1985. In 1987, Edsall became defensive backs coach for the Orangemen for three seasons before taking over as the school's recruiting coordinator for the 1989 and '90 seasons.

In 1991 Edsall was hired by Coughlin at Boston College. He played for Coughlin from 1976 to '79 when Edsall was a quarterback for Syracuse and Coughlin was the team's quarterback coach and offensive coordinator. As a senior at Syracuse in 1979, Edsall received the Joseph Alexander Award for excellence in football, scholarship and citizenship. He graduated in 1980 with a bachelor's degree in health and physical education, and in 1982 earned a master's degree in health and physical education.

Edsall and his wife, Eileen, have a daughter, Alexi, and a son, Corey. Randy was born August 27, 1958 in York, Pa.

KEVIN

OFFENSIVE COORDINATOR

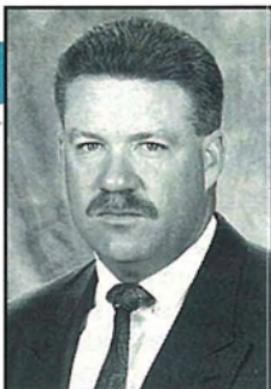

Kevin Gilbride was named the Jaguars' offensive coordinator on January 14, 1995. The 44-year-old Gilbride is a veteran of 21 years in coaching, including six seasons in the NFL. Gilbride most recently served as assistant head coach/offense for the Houston Oilers after four seasons as the Oilers' offensive coordinator.

Under Gilbride, the Oilers' offense ranked first in the NFL in passing yards from 1990 through '92 and was third in 1993. For four consecutive seasons (1990-93), the Oilers ranked among the NFL's top three teams in total offense, and entering the 1994 campaign the Oilers had scored more points over a four-year span than 26 of the other 27 NFL teams. During that same span, the Oilers also ranked among the NFL's top five clubs in third-down efficiency and first downs. Last year under Gilbride, the Oilers' offense diversified from a pure run-and-shoot attack.

As offensive coordinator, Gilbride is also responsible for coaching the Jaguars' quarterbacks. He is considered one of the top offensive coaches in the NFL.

A former quarterback and tight end for Southern Connecticut State, Gilbride began his coaching career in 1974 at Idaho State. He also had stops as defensive coordinator at Tufts (1976-77) and American International (1978-79) before gaining his first head coaching job at Southern Connecticut State (1980-84). While at SCSU, Gilbride posted a 35-14-2 record and was named New England Coach of the Year in 1983 and NCAA Division II Coach of the Year (1982-83).

In 1985 and '86 Gilbride was with the Ottawa Rough Riders in the Canadian Football League, the first season as quarterbacks/receivers coach before being elevated to offensive coordinator in 1986. He then went back to the college ranks at East Carolina as passing game coordinator in 1987 and offensive coordinator in 1988 prior to joining the Oilers.

Gilbride graduated from Southern Connecticut State University and received his master's degree from Idaho State. While at SCSU, he was a three-year starter as a quarterback and tight end.

Gilbride was born August 27, 1951. He and his wife, Deborah, have two daughters, Kelly and Kristen, and a son, Kevin.

JERALD

RUNNING BACKS COACH

Jerald Ingram was named to the Jaguars coaching staff on March 3, 1994 after three seasons as running backs coach at Boston College under Tom Coughlin. Ingram, 34, is in his 12th year of coaching.

Following his college days as a running back at Michigan, Ingram was a graduate assistant at Michigan in 1984. In 1985 he joined the Ball State coaching staff as tight ends coach, followed by five seasons (1986-90) as running backs coach. In Ingram's last three seasons at Ball State, the team posted a 22-10-2 record, the best among the nine Mid-American Conference schools.

In 1991 Ingram joined Coughlin's Boston College staff, where he coached 1992 Big East rushing champion Chuckie Dukes and Darnell Cambell, the NCAA's third-leading scorer in 1993.

Ingram earned three letters and was a member of five bowl teams as a fullback for Michigan from 1979 to '84. He played for two Wolverines Big Ten champion squads that advanced to the Rose Bowl in addition to playing in the Sugar, Gator and Bluebonnet Bowls. Ingram graduated from Michigan in 1984 with a bachelor's degree in general studies.

Ingram was born December 24, 1960 in Beaver, Pa. He and his wife, Kathleen, live in Jacksonville.

DICK

DEFENSIVE COORDINATOR

Dick Jauron was named defensive coordinator of the Jaguars on January 11, 1995. Jauron, 44, had been defensive backs coach for the Green Bay Packers for the previous nine years. The 1995 season will be his 20th in the NFL, including nine as a player and 11 in coaching.

In his nine years with the Packers, Jauron worked under three different head coaches. He joined the organization in 1986 under Forrest Gregg, and was retained when Lindy Infante took over in 1988 and in 1992 when Mike Holmgren was named Green Bay's head coach.

The Packers, who reached the playoffs each of the last two years, had the NFL's third-best run defense and sixth-leading defense overall in 1994. They allowed an average of 85.2 rushing yards and 297.8 total yards per game in the regular season. The Packers' 21 interceptions in 1994 were the team's most since 1989. In Jauron's nine seasons in Green Bay, the defense made 168 interceptions in 143 games.

A former NFL defensive back, Jauron began his coaching career in 1985 with the Buffalo Bills under Hank Bullough. The following season he moved to Green Bay to join Gregg's staff, along with Tom Coughlin. Coughlin and Jauron were together on the Packers coaching staff for the 1986 and '87 seasons.

Following his college career at Yale, Jauron was drafted by the Detroit Lions in the fourth round of the 1973 draft. He was named to the Pro Bowl after the 1974 season and played for the Lions through 1977. In 1978 Jauron was waived by the Lions, but he signed with the Cincinnati Bengals six days later and continued his career in Cincinnati until suffering a knee injury during the 1980 season. By the end of his eight-year playing career Jauron had made 26 interceptions, including six as a Bengals starter in 1979, and he returned two for touchdowns. In college Jauron played running back, and he still holds the Yale all-time record for career rushing yards with 2,947 yards.

Jauron was born October 7, 1950 in Peoria, Ill. He and his wife, Gail, have two daughters, Kacy and Amy.

MIKE

COACH

Mike Maser joined the Jaguars staff on March 3, 1994 following 13 seasons at Boston College, the last three under Tom Coughlin. Maser, 48, is a veteran of 26 seasons in coaching.

A guard in college, Maser began his coaching career in 1969 as a student assistant at the University of Buffalo. In 1970, he coached for one year at Darien High School in Darien, Conn. A service veteran, Maser coached at the U.S. Military Academy Prep School at Fort Belvoir, Va. for two years. In 1973, he was the assistant offensive line coach at Marshall. From 1974 to '78, Maser served as offensive coordinator and head of recruiting for Bluefield State College in West Virginia.

In 1979 and '80, Maser was an assistant under Jack Bicknell at Maine, and in 1981 he joined Bicknell's staff at Boston College. When Coughlin was named head coach at Boston College in 1991 he retained Maser as offensive line coach. During Maser's tenure at Boston College, the team played in six bowl games.

Maser attended the University of Buffalo, where he was a three-year starter at guard. He graduated in 1970 with a bachelor's degree in health, physical education and recreation. In 1974 he received a master's degree in physical education from Marshall University.

Maser and his wife, Barbara, have a daughter, Brigitte, and two sons, Greg and Brian. Mike was born March 2, 1947 in Clayton, N.Y.

NICK

TIGHT ENDS COACH

Nick Nicolau was named the Jaguars' tight ends coach on Feb. 2 following three years as the offensive coordinator for the Indianapolis Colts. He is a veteran of 15 seasons as an NFL assistant coach.

Nicolau, 62, began his NFL coaching career in 1980 as running backs coach for the New Orleans Saints. He held the same position with the Denver Broncos the following year and was on the Broncos' staff through the 1987 season. During Nicolau's tenure in Denver, the Broncos played in Super Bowls XXI and XXII.

In 1988, Nicolau served as wide receivers coach for the Los Angeles Raiders before joining the Buffalo Bills in 1989. He spent three seasons with the Bills as receivers coach, helping direct the team to appearances in Super Bowls XXV and XXVI.

Nicolau's 37-year coaching career includes two years at the high school level and 17 at the college level, with coaching stints at Southern Connecticut State (1960), Springfield College (1961), the University of Bridgeport (1962-69), Massachusetts (1970), Connecticut (1971-72), Kentucky (1973-75) and Kent State (1976).

In 1977, Nicolau coached with the Canadian Football League's Hamilton Tiger-Cats before spending the 1978 and '79 seasons as director of player personnel/running backs coach for the Montreal Alouettes. Montreal made Grey Cup appearances both seasons that Nicolau was on the staff.

A native of New Bedford, Mass., Nicolau was born May 5, 1933. He was a running back at Southern Connecticut from 1951 to '53 and 1956. He earned a master's degree from Indiana University and a doctorate from Springfield College. Nick and his wife, Eleanor, have six children: Tracey, Duane, Shari, Vickie, Wendy and Randy.

JERRY

PALMIERI

STRENGTH AND CONDITIONING COACH

Jerry Palmieri was named strength and conditioning coach for the Jaguars on January 11, 1995. He previously served as director of strength and conditioning operations at Boston College since August 1993.

In his time at Boston College, Palmieri directed athletes who made great improvements in strength and speed. The football team averaged an increase of .06 seconds per player off their 40-yard dash times while increasing their bench presses an average of 25 pounds and their vertical jump by two inches. In his eight years in charge of strength and conditioning programs, Palmieri has had 29 players squat 600 pounds, 26 players bench press 400 pounds and 22 players reach vertical jumps of 35 inches or more.

Prior to his stint at Boston College, Palmieri spent five years overseeing the strength and conditioning program at Kansas State. He began his career as a strength coach in 1982 at North Carolina, followed by three years (1984-87) at Oklahoma State.

In addition to his coaching experience, Palmieri has taught college physical education classes and written articles for national health publications about strength and conditioning. He has also produced videos on strength and speed training and is active with the Fellowship of Christian Athletes.

A 1980 graduate of Montclair State, Palmieri received a master's degree in exercise physiology from the University of North Carolina in 1983. He was a three-time Golden Gloves champion (1976-79) and competed in international competition as a member of the 1978 and 1979 USA Boxing Teams. He was born October 30, 1958 in Englewood, N.J. Jerry and his wife, Ellen, have a son, Tony, and a daughter, Annamarie.

LARRY

SPECIAL TEAMS COORDINATOR

Larry Pasquale, a veteran of 16 years as an NFL coach, was named the Jaguars' special teams coordinator on January 21, 1995. Pasquale (pronounced pas-KWALL-ee) served in the same capacity for the Philadelphia Eagles for the last three seasons, elevating the Eagles' special teams rankings as he did previously with the San Diego Chargers.

During his coaching career, Pasquale's special teams units have produced 33 touchdowns in the regular season and preseason, while allowing only four blocked punts in 16 years. When he was named special teams coordinator for the Eagles in 1992, he inherited the NFL's 27th-ranked unit, but he transformed it in one season to a fifth-place ranking. That unit scored two touchdowns.

Last season under Pasquale, the Eagles' special teams were among the best in the NFL. Punter Bryan Barker led the NFL in average return allowed and the NFC in net punting average, while the Eagles held their opponents to the second-lowest net punting average in the NFL. Punt returner Jeff Sydnor posted the NFL's fifth-highest return-yardage total with 381 yards and ranked fifth in the NFC with an average return of 9.5 yards. Herschel Walker also ranked second in the NFL with a kickoff return average of 37.7 yards, including a 94-yard TD. Placekicker Eddie Murray had the second-highest field goal percentage (85 percent) in the NFL.

Pasquale, 54, is in his 33rd year in coaching, which includes four seasons at the high-school level, 10 in college and two in the CFL. After serving as wide receivers and special teams coach for the Montreal Alouettes in 1978 and '79, Pasquale entered the NFL in 1979 as special teams coach for the Detroit Lions. In 1980 he joined the New York Jets as wide receivers coach, then he took over the Jets' special teams the following year for the next nine seasons.

With the Jets, Pasquale led an impressive run of high special teams rankings. The Jets had the NFL's top-ranked punt-coverage teams in 1981 and from 1986 to '88, as well as a second-place ranking in 1989. In 1984, the Jets also had the top-ranked kickoff return team. Under Pasquale, the Jets had an 80 percent success rate on fake field goals and fake punts while never allowing an opponent to convert a faked kick.

In 1990 and 1991 Pasquale coached San Diego's special teams, which he boosted to the top ranking among all NFL teams in kickoff return average and punt coverage in his first season. In 1990, he was selected the NFL's special teams coach of the year by his peers.

Pasquale played college football at the University of Bridgeport (Conn.), where he earned bachelor's and master's degrees in physical education. He has also completed post-graduate work at Columbia and Fairfield University. Larry and his wife, Joann, have two daughters, Lisa and Lauren, and a son, Darrell. Larry was born March 21, 1941 in Brooklyn, N.Y.

JOHN

DEFENSIVE LINE COACH

John Pease was named defensive line coach on January 12, 1995 following nine seasons as defensive line coach for the New Orleans Saints. Pease, 51, is a veteran of 25 years in coaching, a career that also includes 13 years at the college level and three in the USFL.

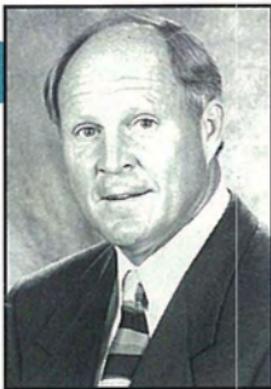

The Saints were a playoff team three of the last five seasons. Under Pease, Saints defensive end Wayne Martin had 30.5 sacks over the last three years, and last year the Saints' 36 sacks tied for the fifth-best by an NFC team.

Pease began his fulltime coaching career at Fullerton College in 1970, serving four years there as defensive coordinator. He had stints at Long Beach State (1974-76), Utah (1977) and Washington (1978-82).

From 1983 to '85, he was on the coaching staff of the Philadelphia/Baltimore Stars of the USFL under head coach Jim Mora. The Stars won the USFL championship in 1984 and '85. When Mora was named head coach of the Saints, Pease joined him in New Orleans, where he had been since 1986.

A graduate of the University of Utah, Pease began college at Fullerton Junior College, where he was a two-time Junior College All-America selection. He transferred to Utah and was named All-Western Athletic conference as a senior wingback. From 1965 to '67, Pease served in the military in Puerto Rico and coached at Antilles High School. In 1968 and '69, he was a graduate assistant at Utah prior to moving to Fullerton the next year.

Pease was born October 14, 1943 in Pittsburgh. He was on the training camp roster of the Los Angeles Rams after his final collegiate season. John and his wife, Chris, have two daughters, Tracy and Kristen.

LUCIOUS

SELMON

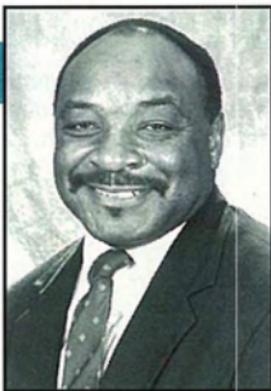

OUTSIDE LINEBACKERS COACH

Lucious Selmon, a former All-America defensive lineman for Oklahoma, was named outside linebackers coach on January 17, 1995. Selmon, 43, joined the Jaguars after serving as outside linebackers coach at Oklahoma, where he coached for the last 19 years.

The oldest of the three famed Selmon brothers who were consensus All-Americans at Oklahoma, Selmon graduated in 1974 with a degree in special education. He was a teammate with his younger brothers, Dewey and Lee Roy, for just one season but was a letterman from 1971 to '73. As a senior in 1973, Selmon served as team captain and was a finalist for the Heisman Trophy.

After his outstanding college career, Selmon played in the World Football League for the Memphis Southmen in 1974 and '75. He returned to Oklahoma in 1976 to begin his coaching career as an assistant on Barry Switzer's staff. From 1976 to '83 Selmon was the school's defensive line coach before serving as outside linebackers/defensive ends coach from 1984 to '94. Selmon coached under Switzer for 13 seasons and was retained on head coach Gary Gibbs' Oklahoma staff in 1989.

In 1989 and '90, Selmon spent training camps working with the coaching staff of the Denver Broncos. During that time he helped coach the Broncos' linebackers and defensive ends.

Selmon was born March 15, 1951. He and his wife, Clarice, have a son, Lucious III.

STEVE

INSIDE LINEBACKERS COACH

Steve Szabo joined the Jaguars coaching staff on March 3, 1994 after three seasons as defensive coordinator at Boston College. A veteran of 25 seasons in coaching at the college level, Szabo served three years as a college head coach.

A former college running back and defensive back, Szabo began his coaching career in 1969 at Johns Hopkins followed by stops at Toledo (1970), Iowa (1971-73), Syracuse (1974-76), Iowa State (1977-78), Ohio State (1979-81), Western Michigan (1982-84), Northern Iowa (1988) and Colorado State (1989-90). From 1985 to '87 Szabo was head coach at Edinboro University in Pennsylvania.

After serving two seasons as defensive coordinator under Earl Bruce at Colorado State, Szabo joined Tom Coughlin's Boston College staff in 1991. In all, Szabo has coached in a total of nine bowl games representing five different colleges.

As a halfback and defensive back at the United States Naval Academy from 1961 to '64, Szabo was a teammate with Heisman Trophy winner Roger Staubach. As a junior in 1963, Szabo played on the Navy team that ranked second in the nation and played for the national championship in the Cotton Bowl. He also played lacrosse for three national championship teams at the Naval Academy. Szabo graduated in 1965 with a bachelor's degree in naval science. After graduation he was stationed at Quantico from 1965 to '69, where he continued playing football for the Marines.

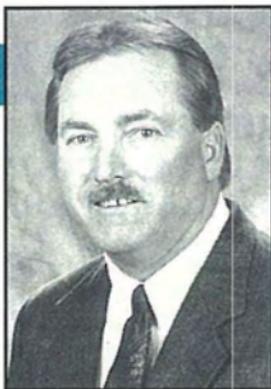

Szabo was born September 11, 1943 in Evergreen Park, Ill. He has two children from a previous marriage, Christine and Mike, and he and his wife, Patti, have a son, Zack.

RON

DIRECTOR, PRO PERSONNEL

Ron Hill was named director of pro personnel for the Jaguars on June 6, 1994 after a 10-year stint with the Denver Broncos. In 1993, Hill served his first year as the Broncos' assistant director of player personnel. Overall, he has 16 years of NFL scouting experience, including five with the Dallas Cowboys.

As director of pro personnel, Hill is responsible for the scouting and evaluation of the players on every NFL team. He is also involved in the Jaguars' decisions during the NFL free-agent signing periods.

Hill served with the Broncos as an area scout from 1983 to '92 prior to becoming the assistant director of player personnel in 1993. He began his scouting career in the professional ranks with the Cowboys, where he served from 1979 to '82. Prior to entering the NFL, Hill served on the coaching staff at Mississippi State from 1977 to '79 and at Elaine (Ark.) High School from 1975 to '76.

Hill played linebacker at Mississippi State in 1971 and at Itawamba (Miss.) Junior College in 1972 before returning to Mississippi State. He graduated from Mississippi State in 1975 with a bachelor's degree in education, and earned his master's in education and administration in 1978 while coaching in that school's football program.

JAGUARS DRAFT NOTES: The Jaguars were originally awarded 14 draft choices, but after five trades, they ended up with 10 drafted players and QB Mark Brunell. In fact, the Jaguars traded 10 of their 14 original picks. The only players drafted with original picks were OT Tony Boselli, MLB Bryan Schwartz, QB Rob Johnson and OT Marcus Price ... The first trade came April 21, the day before the draft, when they traded two choices (third and fifth rounds) to Green Bay for Brunell. The Jaguars also traded away two of next year's 14 picks (in the fourth and sixth rounds) ... The Jaguars were the only team with six picks among the first 100 ... Jacksonville chose seven players on offense and three on defense. The first three picks and four of the first six were offensive players ... The Jaguars' original 14 picks were the most in the NFL; with their 10 selections, they tied for fourth (San Diego had 13; Buffalo and Carolina had 11; and Jacksonville, Dallas, Green Bay, Pittsburgh and St. Louis had 10 each).

JAGUARS HISTORY

Aug. 17 — Touchdown Jacksonville!, a partnership to lead the community effort to win an NFL franchise is formed. The group, led by Tom Petway, includes Jeb Bush, Hamilton Jordan, and Arthur "Chick" Sherrer.

1990

April 4 — National Football League commissioner Paul Tagliabue announces that the League will expand by two teams no later than the 1993 season.

July 26 — The NFL Realignment and Expansion Committee recommends that the League expand by two teams for the 1993 season.

Feb. 12 — In a unanimous vote, the Jacksonville City Council votes to commit $60 million to renovate the Gator Bowl contingent upon the City being awarded an expansion football team.

May 15 — The NFL Realignment and Expansion Committee recommends that the League expand by two teams for the 1994 season, contrary to the July 26, 1990 vote.

May 22 — At the owners' meeting in Minneapolis, a plan is approved that will add two expansion teams to the League for the 1994 season.

May 30 — Florida Governor Lawton Chiles signs into law the Professional Sports Facilities Program, a state statute that provides state funding of up to $2 million for 30 years for funding new sports facilities that operate in the state of Florida.

June 25 — The lease that includes the recently approved $60 million package to renovate the Gator Bowl is approved by City Council.

July 17 — The NFL announces that it will accept applications for expansion teams.

Sept. 16 — The City of Jacksonville files an expansion application with the League, one of 11 cities to apply.

Oct. 1 — Touchdown Jacksonville!, Ltd. submits its ownership application to the League. The nine-member partnership includes local businessman and Touchdown Jacksonville!, Ltd. general partner Tom Petway. J. Wayne Weaver is one of the eight limited partners, along with Jeb Bush, Lawrence DuBow, Earl Hadlow, Preston Haskell, Sandy McArthur, Charles Towers and Ron Weaver.

Oct. 24 — David Seldin is named president and chief operating officer of Touchdown Jacksonville!, Ltd.

Dec. 6 — Touchdown Jacksonville! Ltd. announces that the team name will be the Jacksonville Jaguars if an expansion team is awarded.

Dec. 10 — Touchdown Jacksonville! Ltd. and City officials make the group's first presentation to commissioner Tagliabue and other NFL officials in New York.

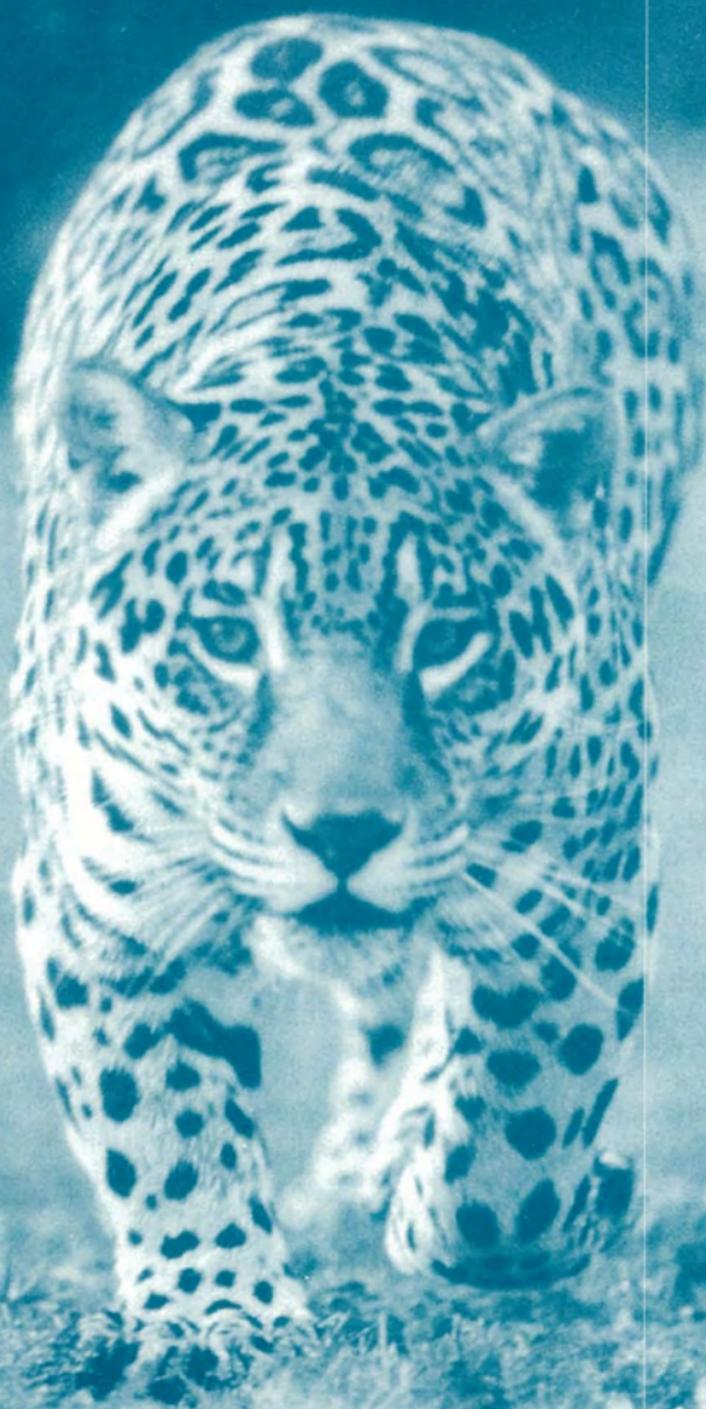

1992

March 17 — At the League's annual winter meeting in Phoenix, the list of expansion candidate cities is cut from 11 to seven. Jacksonville is one of the seven; Nashville, San Antonio, Raleigh-Durham, and Honolulu are eliminated.

May 19 — The five finalists in the expansion race are named:

JAGUARS HISTORY AND RECORDS

(more to come)

Jacksonville, Charlotte, Baltimore, Memphis, St. Louis. Sacramento and Oakland are eliminated.

Oct. 20 — Citing complications surrounding the ongoing labor situation, the NFL votes to delay the expansion announcement to its 1993 fall meeting in Chicago and for expansion teams to begin play in 1995.

1993

Jan. 6 — A seven-year Collective Bargaining Agreement is reached between the League and its players. With the labor situation resolved, a new expansion timetable is expected in March.

March 18 — J. Wayne Weaver is introduced as managing general partner of Touchdown Jacksonville! Ltd.

March 23 — The expansion race is officially resumed by the NFL.

April 12 — After a tour with Touchdown Jacksonville!, Ltd. representatives, NFL officials indicate that additional renovations beyond those already planned would be necessary to renovate the Gator Bowl to NFL standards.

June 25 — Negotiations for a new lease between Jacksonville Mayor Ed Austin and Touchdown Jacksonville!, Ltd. break down.

July 1 — Mayor Austin and Touchdown Jacksonville!, Ltd. resume negotiations and agree on a plan that caps stadium renovation costs at $112 million and protects the city from cost overruns. Mayor Austin sends the lease to City Council for approval.

July 21 — The Jacksonville City Council fails to approve the newly negotiated $112 million stadium proposal. As a result, Weaver announces that Touchdown Jacksonville! Ltd. is ending its bid for an NFL expansion franchise.

July 22 — Touchdown Jacksonville! Ltd. closes offices and club seat and executive suite deposits are returned.

Aug. 20 — The Florida Times Union reports that negotiations between Touchdown Jacksonville! Ltd. and the City have resumed, encouraged by the NFL and at the request of Times-Union publisher Carl Cannon and Chamber of Commerce chairman Adam Herbert.

Aug. 21 — Mayor Austin and Touchdown Jacksonville! reach an agreement on a new stadium lease capping stadium renovation costs at $121 million, $53 million to come from City funds and $68 million from team and team-related sources. As project manager, Touchdown Jacksonville! assumes responsibility for any cost overruns.

Aug. 22 — Facing the challenge of selling 9,000 club seats, a committee of civic and business leaders is formed called NFL Now!, headed by Carl Cannon and Adam Herbert.

Aug. 23 — The City Council votes 14-4 to approve the new lease.

Aug. 24 — With the new public/private partnership, Weaver and Mayor Austin meet with commissioner Tagliabue, who welcomes Jacksonville back into the expansion race.

Aug. 25 — NFL Now! begins a 10-day drive to sell the required club seats.

Sept. 3 — Carl Cannon of NFL Now! announces that 9,737 club seats have been sold, a number that rises to 10,112 once all the applications are processed.

Sept. 21 — Weaver and other Touchdown Jacksonville! officials make their presentation to the NFL finance and expansion committees.

Oct. 26 — In Chicago, League owners select the Carolina Panthers for an expansion team but delay the announcement of the second expansion city.

Nov. 30 (4:12 p.m. ET) — In Chicago, Jacksonville is awarded the 30th franchise in the National Football League.

Dec. 1 — A victory celebration in the Gator Bowl, as 25,000 Jaguars fans battle cold and rain to welcome Wayne Weaver, Jaguars officials, city officials and community leaders upon their return from Chicago.

1994

Jan. 3 — Demolition of the Gator Bowl begins.

Jan. 6 — The Jaguars announce a season ticket sellout for their first three seasons. Over 56,000 season tickets are sold through Dec. 31, just one month after the awarding of the team.

Feb. 21 — Tom Coughlin is hired as head coach of the Jaguars. The former Boston College head coach and assistant with the New York Giants brings six of his assistants with him.

Aug. 24 — The Jaguars announce that they will hold their first training camp in 1995 at the University of Wisconsin-Stevens Point.

Sept. 14 — The Jacksonville Jaguars Foundation, Inc. is established, under the direction of Delores Barr Weaver and Dr. Gregory S. Gross.

Sept. 28 — The NFL announces specific plans to stock the expansion teams.

Nov. 1 — The Jaguars hold their first official workout at Bishop Kenny High School. Thirteen offensive linemen work out in front of 1,500 fans.

Nov. 2 — The NFL announces its plans for division alignment, putting the Jaguars in the AFC Central Division along with the Cincinnati Bengals, Cleveland Browns, Houston Oilers and Pittsburgh Steelers. The Carolina Panthers will join the NFC Western Division.

Dec. 15 — The Jaguars sign the first 10 players in team history: WR Shannon Baker, LB Hillary Butler, DE Ferric Collons, OL Greg Huntington, RB Randy Jordan, DE Ernie Logan, OT Rickie Shaw, DE Jason Simmons, DE Ricky Sutton, DE Chris Williams.

1995

Jan. 12 — Dick Jauron is hired as defensive coordinator. Jauron had spent nine years with the Green Bay Packers as an assistant coach in charge of the defensive backs.

Jan. 14 — Kevin Gilbride is introduced as the Jaguars' offensive coordinator. He had previously been the assistant head coach/offensive coordinator of the Houston Oilers.

Jan. 20 — The Jaguars unveil their new logo and team uniform.

Feb. 14 — The Jaguars draft 31 players in the NFL Expansion Draft. The first player selected is Arizona quarterback Steve Beuerlein. During the draft, the Jaguars acquire such veteran players as Desmond Howard, Keith Goganious, Darren Carrington, Reggie Cobb, Eugene Chung and Derek Brown.

Feb. 28 — The Jaguars sign their first unrestricted free agents: guard Shawn Bouwens and defensive linemen Joel Smeenge and Don Davey. Within 15 days, six more unrestricted free-agents would be signed: cornerback Vinnie Clark, punter Bryan

Barker, cornerback Mickey Washington, defensive tackle Kelvin Pritchett, defensive end Jeff Lageman and center Dave Widell.

March 23 — The Jacksonville Jaguars Foundation awards its first grants to eight local organizations totaling $139,850.

April 21 — The first trade in team history: Jacksonville acquires quarterback Mark Brunell from the Green Bay Packers in exchange for draft picks in the third and fifth rounds of the 1995 draft.

April 22 — Southern California offensive tackle Tony Boselli becomes the Jaguars' first-ever selection in the college draft, the second overall pick. Later in the first round, running back James Stewart is chosen 19th overall after the Jaguars trade up in the round. The Jaguars select a total of 10 players during the two-day draft.

April 28-30 — The first minicamp is held on the practice fields adjacent to the new stadium.

June 1 — The Jaguars sign their entire first class of draft choices at the same time, an event unprecedented in NFL history.

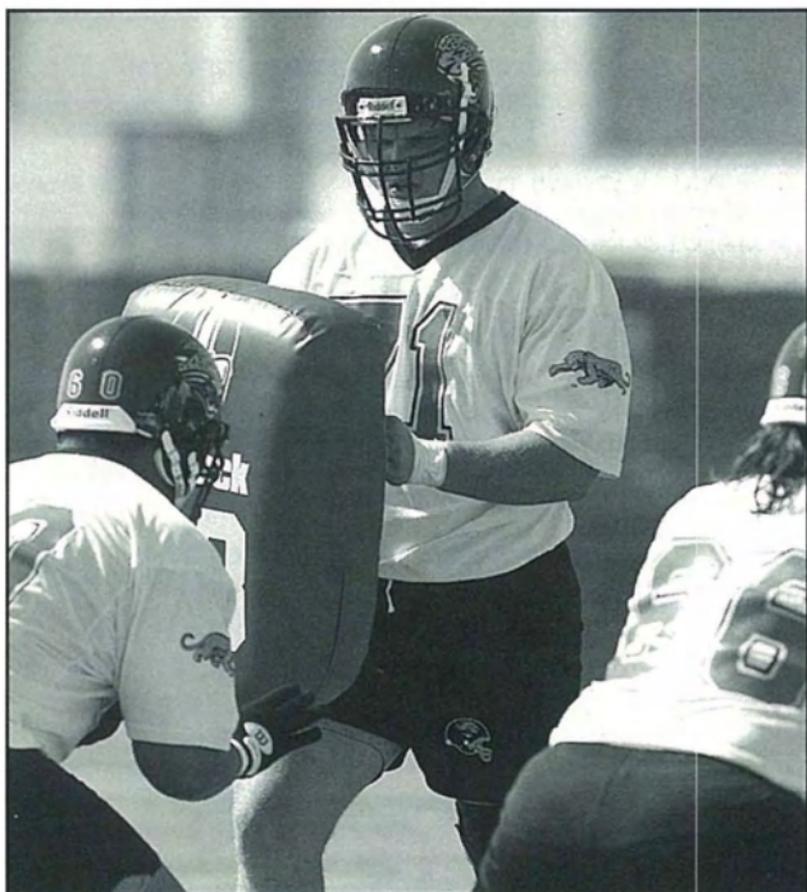

June 2 — Wide receiver Ernest Givins, the leading receiver in Houston Oilers history, signs a contract with the Jaguars.

June 2-8 — The second minicamp is held, with one practice session being conducted in front of 2,500 fans at Bishop Kenny High School.

June 10 — "The Roar of the Jaguars," the team's cheerleaders squad, is introduced at The Landing in downtown Jacksonville. The squad includes 36 cheerleaders.

July 8 — The Jaguars' first-ever training camp opens at the University of Wisconsin-Stevens Point.

July 10 — Training camp practice sessions begin in Stevens Point.

First-round draft choice Tony Boselli works out at the Jaguars' first mini-camp

JACKSONVILLE'S PRO FOOTBALL HISTORY

The Jaguars are the third pro football team to call Jacksonville home. The city's franchise in the World Football League was called the Jacksonville Sharks in 1974 and the Jacksonville Express in 1975.

The Sharks played a full season in the World Football League in 1974 but the franchise's owner, coach and team name changed after the season. The Express didn't even get that far; the league folded on October 22, 1975, midway through the WFL's second season. The general manager of the Express was Dick Kravitz, who is now the Jacksonville City Council President. Charlie Tate was the head coach.

The Jacksonville Bulls played in the United States Football League in 1984 and '85. They were owned by Fred Bullard and coached by Lindy Infante. The team's quarterback, Matt Robinson, is now one of the Jaguars' radio broadcasters. The USFL ceased operation after the 1985 season.

STADIUM INFORMATION

"A New Stadium for Jacksonville"

The new stadium as it appeared in June, approximately two months before completion

Now in its first year of operation, Jacksonville's new stadium was built on the site of the old Gator Bowl. With demolition beginning on January 3, 1994, approximately 90 percent of the Gator Bowl was demolished, with the only portion salvaged being the west upper deck, which had been added in 1982. The entire construction process was laid out in a 20-month timetable, the shortest time period in which a major league stadium has ever been built in North America.

The new project required drilling 2,200 pilings to depths of 50 feet below ground. Poured-in-place pile caps, grade beams, columns, slabs and rakers required more than 36,000 cubic yards of concrete and was followed by the placing of 2,753 precast concrete pieces, including raker beams and treads and risers, as the structure rose from ground level.

Once the construction of the interior bowl of the seating area was completed, the five-month process of installing seats began in January of this year. The last seat was in place in June, just as final field preparations were made.

The grass arrived as 102,000 square feet of sod, and it was rolled out in July. Beneath the natural grass playing surface is an irrigation system which waters the entire field surface, and eight inches of sand base. Beneath the sand base lies four inches of pea gravel and a series of diagonal drainage ditches filled with gravel and drain tile.

Among the state-of-the-art features of the stadium are enormous twin 60 by 156-foot scoreboards with 24 by 32-foot Sony JumboTron screens. One of the most unique features, however, are the two Stadium Clubs, located on the east and west sides of the stadium.

The Clubs and all 10,000 Club Seats are located at midfield. Each Club area provides more than 60,000 square feet of air-conditioned comfort with a variety of food and beverage selections. In all, 75 percent of the seats in the stadium are located on the sides, with just 25 percent behind the endzones.

RADIO BROADCASTS

Experience on the football field will translate to insight-filled color commentary and analysis of the Jaguars' radio broadcasts this season when play-by-play announcer Brian Sexton is joined in the WOKV broadcast booth by Deron Cherry and Matt Robinson.

Sexton, 26, is the voice of the Jaguars and host of the Tom Coughlin Show. Formerly sports director at WOKV, Sexton came to Jacksonville from Wichita, Kan., where he served as assistant sports director at KNSS in 1993 and hosted various pre-game and postgame shows in addition to handling play-by-play for the Wichita State University Radio Network.

Robinson, 40, a former NFL and USFL quarterback, has expertise on the other side of the microphone. A former University of Georgia star, he played six seasons in the NFL for the New York Jets, Denver Broncos and Buffalo Bills. Robinson came to Jacksonville in 1984 as captain and quarterback for the Bulls of the USFL. After his retirement in 1986, he remained in Jacksonville. He has several business interests in the area. He sits on the board of trustees of the North Florida Chapter of the National Multiple Sclerosis Society and is a member of the Jacksonville Chamber of Commerce Sports Council.

Cherry, 35, who is one of nine ownership partners of the Jaguars, is well-qualified as a football expert. For 12 NFL seasons, he was one of the NFL's best free safeties for the Kansas City Chiefs, earning six trips to the Pro Bowl. Since retiring from the NFL in 1992, Cherry served as color analyst for the high school football game of the week for American Cablevision in Kansas City, in addition to co-hosting the Chiefs' weekly wrap-up show. Cherry also worked at the Chiefs' flagship radio station, KCFX, serving as color analyst for high school football and Chiefs preseason games.

Jennifer Kumik, 26, is the Jaguars' primary anchor for television coverage and is the host of "Jaguars Journal." For radio broadcasts, she will contribute to the pre-game and post-game shows, as well as taped interviews which will air during games. A graduate of the University of Florida, Kumik was a reporter for WTLV TV-12 in Jacksonville for one year and weekend anchor for WCJB in Gainesville for three years.

THE JAGUAR

The jaguar is the largest and most powerful wild cat of the Western Hemisphere, with a more compact and more powerfully built body than other species, as well as a shorter tail and larger and broader head. An endangered species, the jaguar is an excellent swimmer, climber and hunter. An adult jaguar typically weighs between 150 and 300 pounds, and the head and body may measure up to five feet in length.

Jaguars stalk and ambush their prey, and may drag their kill a considerable distance to a sheltered area before eating. They eat almost any kind of animal, hunting primarily on the ground and at night. Fish, a favorite food, are caught by lying in wait on a low branch or a rock and flipping the fish out of the water with a quick strike of a paw.

The South American Indian name for the jaguar is "jaguara," which is believed to mean the "carnivore that overcomes its prey in a single bound." The jaguar is considered by many to be more dangerous than the lion or leopard. This is because of a belief that the jaguar becomes possessive of its prey and defends it, similar to the way it "takes possession" and defends its territory.

The jaguar once roamed the southern United States, in Florida, Arizona, southern California, New Mexico and Texas. By the early 20th century the jaguar had disappeared from this region, and today it is found only in Mexico and South and Central America. A solitary and territorial animal, the jaguar is not known to migrate but may roam due to seasonal habitat changes.

The jaguar was once worshipped by the Maya Indians as a god, a symbol of strength and courage. They believed it was a sacred animal and that the sun hid inside the jaguar at night.

The jaguar's greatest enemy is man, whose demand for the beautiful spotted pelt nearly endangered the existence of the animal in the latter half of this century. The United States prohibits the import or export of jaguars or their pelts.

The jaguar's unique spots vary on a yellow or golden fur. The jaguar's spots are arranged in rosettes of four to five spots with a central spot, distinguishing the jaguar's coat from the spotted leopard's, which does not have a central spot within the rosettes. The spots on the back and sides of the jaguar are light-colored, with a dark center and dark outline. The spots on the head, legs and underside are black. Entirely black jaguars are found in South America, and albino jaguars are known as well.

FANTASTIC FIRSTS

MIAMI — Joe Auer returned the opening kickoff of the first game 95 yards for a touchdown.

NEW ORLEANS — John Gilliam returned the opening kickoff of the first game 95 yards for a touchdown

MINNESOTA — Won their opening game 37-13 over the Chicago Bears (who had been in the league for 42 years)

ATLANTA — The only expansion team not to finish in last place (the Falcons were 3-11-0, ahead of the New York Giants, who finished 1-12-1).

SEATTLE — Won the first expansion bowl, 13-10 over Tampa Bay in the sixth game of the 1976 season.

DALLAS — The Cowboys' first non-loss was in Game 11 of the 1960 season, a 31-31 tie with the New York Giants.

TAMPA BAY — Played in the NFC championship game in only their fourth year of existence.

CINCINNATI — The Bengals won their first two home games, defeating Denver and Buffalo, in 1967.

MEDIA INFORMATION

CREDENTIAL REQUESTS: Credential requests will be honored only for working media on specific assignment for a recognized news organization or sports publication. Credentials will not be issued to freelance writers or photographers unless requested by a recognized news organization or sports publication. All credential requests must be submitted in writing on company letterhead to Dan Edwards, Executive Director of Communications, Jacksonville Jaguars, One Stadium Place, Jacksonville FL 32202, or by fax to (904) 633-6055. Requests must be received at least one week prior to a home game.

PARKING: Parking in lots surrounding the stadium is limited. Every effort will be made to accommodate requests for parking passes, but parking cannot be provided for all credentialed media. The appropriate parking pass will be required for access to all stadium parking lots on game days. Television trucks which provide satellite, uplink or microwave functions will be parked adjacent to Gate 1.

MEDIA ENTRANCE, CREDENTIAL WILL-CALL: The media entrance at the stadium is at Gate 1, at the Southwest corner of the stadium. The appropriate game credential must be presented at the media entrance for admission to the stadium. Game credentials not picked up in advance will be available on game day at the credential will-call window at Gate 1. The credential will-call window will open three hours prior to kickoff. Parking passes will not be left at the will-call window.

PHOTOGRAPHERS: Sideline access for NFL games is limited to photographers and videographers on assignment for a recognized news organization or sports publication. No one except network television personnel and authorized game personnel will be admitted to the field without a camera. All field photographers must remain outside the bench areas and outside the yellow border surrounding the playing field. All photographers must shoot from a kneeling position so that fans sitting in the lower seating areas will not be obstructed. The photographers check-in location is near the media entrance on the service hallway.

POSTGAME INTERVIEWS AND LOCKERROOM ACCESS: Members of the media needing to conduct postgame interviews will be given access to the Jaguars' interview room after each game, as well as the home and visiting lockerrooms. Jaguars head coach Tom Coughlin will conduct his postgame news conference in the team meeting room. Other key players or stars of the game will also be brought to the team meeting room after coach Coughlin's news conference. The visiting head coach will be available in an area adjacent to the visitors lockerroom.

DURING THE WEEK

MEDIA WORKROOM: The media workroom in the stadium is located just inside the media entrance. This room will be available during business hours throughout the week. Phones, Jaguars and NFL news releases, and other information will be available.

TOM COUGHLIN INTERVIEWS: Head coach Tom Coughlin will conduct his weekly news conference at 12:00 noon on Mondays in the media workroom. He will not be available on Tuesdays, but will be available for interviews as requested in advance from 12:15 to 12:30 on Wednesdays and Thursdays, and from 12:00 to 12:15 on Friday.

PLAYER INTERVIEWS: The Jaguars lockerroom will be open to accredited media for specific interview periods during the week. On Mondays, players will only be available from 11:45 to 12:00, and on Tuesdays there will be no availability as this will be the players' off day. The lockerroom will be open to the media on Wednesdays, Thursdays and Fridays from 11:45 to 12:15. All interviews should be arranged through the Jaguars communications department. Interviews may be conducted in person or by phone, but please call in advance when possible to schedule.
